0.1 uF should work OK.

500K @ 0.1 uF is about 3 ohms

So where does it say that the Killer was a 'Christian' http://www.news.com.au/couriermail/story/0,23739,25568575-954,00.html
* Wichita officials said the suspect, who was not identified, was arrested some three hours after the killing.
* Local media identified the suspect as a 51-year-old man, who would be returned to Wichita to be charged.

'christians' can be killers . . . all in the name
Science and a Better Society

"Tiller also Angered Christians by shrouding his Killing with Faux Religiosity, even going so far as to have a Chaplain on his Clinic

But you realize that because of the way Limbaugh is inciting people under the current homeland security act that he could be imprisoned under that act for undermining the security of the nation? Like Jose Padia and others he could be imprisoned for giving out information over the air to enable Al Qaeda to use the laws to their advantage.....If we REALLY wanted to we could turn the laws against the Republicans. Remember the McCarthy era?

In all honesty, I don't see much, if any, difference in Obama's actions and those of the last administration. He's continuing the Bush wars and putting the population into debt at a rate at least equal to the best the Clown Prince ever did.

A good scam. Bankers lending you money you immediately give back to them. You're stuck with the interest for the next six hundred years.
It's hard to get anything done when half the taxes are turned into profit for the lenders on money you've never seen or used.

It appears to be the same garbage....just a different wrapping.

Have I ever mentioned that this is how Feudalism works?

Handy Shortwave Chart
Bill McFadden
billmc@agora.rdrop.com

Band allocations and time zone conversions for the USA. Includes broadcast bands used outside the USA. For multi-use bands, primary usage is shown.
Some stations operate outside official bands. Information is from Oct 2005 FCC rules and Jan 2006 NTIA manual, see Chapter 4 of:
http://www.ntia.doc.gov/osmhome/redbook/redbook.html

Frequencies are in kHz. Usual spacing in shortwave broadcast bands is 5 kHz. Frequencies above 10000 kHz tend to propagate better during the day; frequencies below 10000 kHz tend to propagate better at night.

Please e-mail suggestions and corrections to billmc@agora.rdrop.com.

Phone line as SW antenna
Bill McFadden
billmc@agora.rdrop.com

Changes preceded by "|".

WARNINGS AND DISCLAIMERS

Connecting unapproved devices to phone lines may be illegal in your area.
Telephone lines present a potential shock hazard. Do not use this antenna for transmitting. Use at your own risk.

INTRODUCTION

This article describes how to use a phone line as a shortwave receiving antenna. Performance will vary depending on the kind of phone line you have. Overhead lines usually make okay antennas, while underground lines | usually don't. Phone lines carrying DSL service may be unsuitable because | DSL operates over a wide spectrum. A phone line antenna will generally pick up more power line noise than a dedicated antenna, so don't expect to | use it for DX work. Nevertheless, I found that it outperformed the | telescopic whip antennas built into many portables.

A reader sent in this suggestion: If you're concerned about connecting the phone line directly to the receiver, try wrapping the phone cord several times around the receiver's telescopic whip antenna instead.
Performance may not be as good as a direct connection, but it will probably be better than the whip antenna by itself.

Someone else wrote asking about lightning protection. I haven't thought much about it because thunderstorms are rare in my area. Most phone lines have lightning arrestors on them where they enter the house, but the lightning arrestors may pass enough energy during a lightning strike damage a receiver. My suggestion is to disconnect the antenna when not in use if you experience frequent thunderstorms.

HOW TO DO IT

The simplest connection is a single capacitor between the phone line and receiver. The capacitor eliminates all phone line voltages, including | ringing, so that they will not harm the receiver. The capacitor should
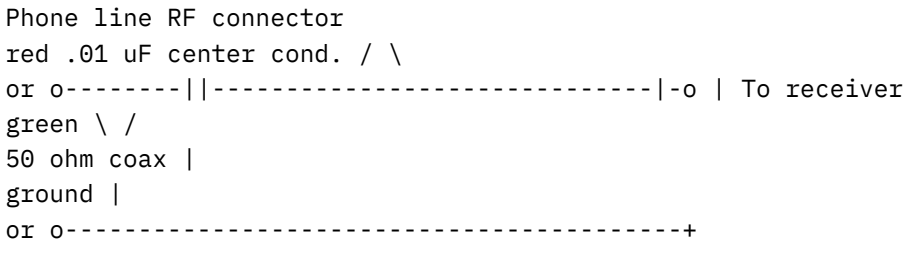
| be rated 250 volts or higher.



N.C. = no connect. I originally connected the phone line ground (yellow wire) to this terminal, but reception was better without it (if you do this, play it safe and put a .01 uF capacitor in series). If another ground is available, you can connect it to this terminal.

If you are picking up local AM or FM radio stations on the shortwave bands, it is likely that your receiver is overloaded. Inexpensive and portable receivers usually lack the filtering needed to eliminate this interference, but you can make your own filters. Filters can also be | purchased from shortwave dealers (see below for recommendations).

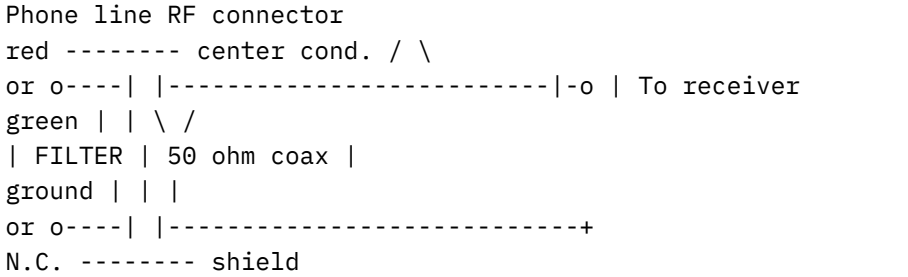
A high-pass filter can be used to remove signals below the shortwave bands. It rejects interference from local AM stations and presents a high impedance to the phone line at audio frequencies so that the phone line remains balanced.

A low-pass filter can be used to remove signals above the shortwave bands. It rejects interference from FM and TV stations, as well as VHF 2-way radio transmitters. If you use both filters, connect the output of the first filter to the input of the second (don't forget to connect their ground terminals together). It doesn't matter which filter is connected first.

These filters also work well with random wire antennas. Just connect the antenna in place of the phone line.

The filter(s) should be connected to the phone line in this manner:



| RECOMMENDED FILTERS
| If you don't want to make your own filters, the following have good | performance, are well-built and affordable:
| Model 400 BCB interference filter (3.5 MHz highpass)
| http://www.iceradioproducts.com/filtersrf.html#bcb

| Model 420 HF lowpass filter (30 MHz lowpass)
| http://www.iceradioproducts.com/filtersrf.html#3
| (scroll down a bit to see the model 420)

FILTER PLANS

The original credit for the high-pass and low-pass filters goes to Paul Blumstein and John Shalamskas, respectively. Edited versions of their articles are included here:

From: paulb@harley.TTI.COM (Paul Blumstein)
Subject: BC Band Hi-Pass Filter

The following ascii-schematic diagram is a high pass filter that will filter out Broadcast Band (MW) stations. I found it a great boon to my shortwave listening since local MW stations overload my ATS-803A front end & appear in SW, especially with a long antenna.

If you remember my antenna saga, I went from 50 feet to 150 feet & had overload problems causing me to cut back to 50 feet. (Even at 50 feet, I still have some MW interference). I took the advice of Gary Coffman and looked up filters in the ARRL Handbook. With the filter in place, I intend to try to increase my antenna length again.

Anywho, here is the filter, for interested parties.

--------||---+----||-----+----||-----------
} }
{ {
} }
-------------+-----------+-----------------

The outer capacitors are 1500 pf ceramic disks.
The inner capacitor is 820 pf ceramic disk.
The squiggly things are coils (two total). Each one is 2.7 uh.
(a close value will do).

Subject: Re: BC Band Hi-Pass Filter

I built the filter that Paul Blumstein posted recently and measured it on a gain-phase analyzer. Here are its characteristics:

100 kHz -120dB
500 kHz -68dB

1000 kHz -38dB
1600 kHz -15dB
2100 kHz -3dB

The source and load impedances were 50 ohms. Because the filter has five elements, the attenuation is 30dB per octave. The measurements confirmed this.

This filter seems to be a good compromise between interference attenuation and passband response. There is very little attenuation in the 120m band and above. It could use a little more attenuation at the upper end of MW, which could be done with more stages or a higher cutoff frequency. Alternatively, you could build two of these filters and put them in series. (Since two 1500pF capacitors in series are really 750pF, you could eliminate one cap.)

Just for fun, I put 470 ohms in series with the input to see how the filter performed with an antenna mismatch. The response was:

100 kHz -105dB
500 kHz -60dB
1000 kHz -35dB
1600 kHz -15dB
2300 kHz -3dB

These figures are normalized to the passband response of -15dB, which is due to the impedance mismatch between the source and load and would have been there without the filter. Hence, the filter works almost as well in spite of the mismatch, which is good news to those who use long-wire antennas.

Subject: Construction of filters for SW reception

Several people have asked for construction details of the filters I built for my DX-440.

The high-pass filter helped some, but in my location the VHF/UHF broadcasters are also causing problems. So, I dug out the ARRL handbook and chose a 7-element Chebyshev low-pass design that is -3 dB at 35 MHz, -20 dB at 43 MHz, and -50 dB at 64 MHz (all calculated; it works well in practice!)

LOW-PASS FILTER (Rejects FM, TV, etc.)

chassis ground

I had to do a little more improvising at this point. I used .33 uH instead of .36, and .66 uH instead of .42, but it works fine.

The 5-lug terminal strips were perfect for these circuits, since there are 4 lugs plus a grounded lug. All "ground" connections go to the lug that is mounted to the chassis, and the other 4 lugs are used for each of the connections on the signal line. One terminal strip is used per filter. Since both filters were necessary to clean up the hash, I am going to put them both into one box when I get the time.

The proper way to connect them is in series, i.e.

signal in ------- filter 1 -------- filter 2 -------- signal out

There is no difference between ends. They are "bilateral" which means you can't possibly hook them up backwards. (In the above schematics,

COIL WINDING

You can make the coils yourself using this formula:

L = 0.2 * B^2 * N^2 / (3B + 9A + 10C)

L is the inductance, in uH
A is the length of the coil, in inches
B is the mean diameter of the coil, in inches
C is the diameter of the wire, in inches
N is the number of turns

For small wire, you can assume C = 0.

What is Islam?-1

Please forgive me for any disturbance, but I have an important subject to address to you regarding FAITH, and I Don’t intend to overload your email with unnecessary messages…

What is Islam?-1

ABOUT THE WORDS "ISLAM" AND "MUSLIM"

The name of this religion is Islam, the root of which is S-L-M, which means peace. The word "Salam," derived from the same root, may also mean greeting one another with peace.

One of the beautiful names of God is that He is Peace. But Islam means more than that: it means submission to the One God, and it means living in peace with the Creator – peace within one’s self, peace with other people, and peace with the environment.

Thus, Islam is a total system of living. A Muslim is supposed to live in peace and harmony with all these segments. It follows that a Muslim is any person, anywhere in the world, whose obedience, allegiance, and loyalty are to God, the Lord of the Universe.

IS "MUSLIM" THE SAME AS ARAB?

The followers of Islam are called Muslims. Muslims are not to be confused with Arabs.

Muslims may be Arabs, Turks, Persians, Indians, Pakistanis, Malaysians, Indonesians, Europeans, Africans, Americans, Chinese, or other nationalities.

An Arab could be a Muslim, a Christian, a Jew or an atheist. Any person who adopts the Arabic language is called an Arab.

The language of the Qur’an (the Holy Book of Islam) is Arabic. Muslims all over the world try to learn or improve their Arabic, so that they may be able to read the Qur’an and understand its meaning. They pray in the language of the Qur’an, Arabic. Islamic supplications to God could be (and are) delivered in any language.

There are one billion Muslims in the world; there are about 200 million Arabs. Among those two hundred million Arabs, approximately ten percent are not Muslims. Thus Arab Muslims constitute only about twenty percent of the Muslim population of the world.

ALLAH THE ONE AND THE ONLY GOD

"Allah" was the Arabic word for God long before the birth of Muhammad, peace be upon him.

Muslims believe that Allah is the name of the One and Only God. He is the Creator of all human beings. He is the God for the Christians, the Jews, the Muslims, the Buddhists, the Hindus, the atheists, and all others. Muslims worship God, whose name is Allah. They put their trust in Him and they seek His help and His guidance.

MUHAMMAD

Muhammad was chosen by God to deliver His Message of Peace, namely Islam. He was born in 570 C.E. (Common Era) in Makkah, Arabia. He was entrusted with the Message of Islam when he was at the age of forty years. The revelation that he received is called the Qur'an, while the message is called Islam.

Muhammad is the very last Prophet of God to mankind. He is the final Messenger of God. His message was and is still to the Christians, the Jews and the rest of mankind. He was sent to those religious people to inform them about the true mission of Jesus, Moses, Jacob, Isaac, and Abraham.

Muhammad is considered to be the summation and the culmination of all the prophets and messengers that came before him. He purified the previous messages from adulteration and completed the Message of God for all humanity. He was entrusted with the power of explaining, interpreting and living the teaching of the Qur'an.

ISLAM AND NON-MUSLIMS

Muslims are required to respect all those who are faithful and God conscious people, namely those who received messages. Christians and Jews are called People of the Book. Muslims are asked to call upon the People of the Book for common terms, namely, to worship One God, and to work together for the solutions of the many problems in the society.

Christians and Jews lived peacefully with Muslims throughout centuries in the Middle East and other Asian and African countries. The second Caliph, Umar, chose not to pray in the church in Jerusalem, so as not to give later Muslims an excuse to take it over. Christians entrusted the Muslims, and as such the key of the Church in Jerusalem is still in the hands of the Muslims.

When Jews fled from Spain during the Inquisition, they were welcomed by the Muslims. They settled in the heart of the Islamic Caliphate. They enjoyed positions of power and authority. Throughout the Muslim world, churches, synagogues and missionary schools were built within the Muslim neighborhoods. These places were protected by Muslims during bad times and good, and have continued to receive this protection during the contemporary crises in the Middle East

Indeed, you beat me to it. Air France jetliner leaving Rio to Paris "literally" (according to news) dissapeared over the Atlantic Ocean and like you said, "at least" 228 passengers on board.

Not a good thing, one of the people interviewed said this was "extremely" out of the norm for a jetliner in that particular area to simply cease to exist. Very strange, lets hope everything turns out well for the passengers and crew.

I hope you read this Bill. FINALLY* you post something other than that silly "using your telephone line for a shortwave antenna thing." Seriously, why do you post that? (I know you won't answer directly to

Hopefully no one has ever messed up their receivers or anything with their home electrical setup doing what you post or suggest. Why do you keep posting that? Hopefully you're not hysterically laughing as you post that, hoping that someone (a newbie) will actually try that and either sooner or later fry their gear or something worse, like their home. Just saying. :-I

Subject: Weekend signal improvement

Message from Bryce Foster:

Greetings,

For the last few days, until recently, KCRW on 89.9 had an outage on their IBOC system. As a DX'er and a listener to KSGN, I was curious as to how much impact this would have on your signal.

The improvement in coverage and signal quality in western areas of your coverage area was remarkable. I often spend time on the weekends in the Victorville area, and this weekend I made the drive from my home in Whittier to Victorville on both Saturday and Sunday, and was able to observe the signal improvement along the 605 and 210 freeways.

From my location in Whittier, until approximately the 605-10 junction, your signal was quite strong. Normally your signal is almost non-existent due to IBOC interference, and is limited to brief, rapid fade ups out of the noise.

Along the 210, your signal was marginal along the foothills until just before the 210-57 junction, where it reached full strength and stayed strong until the Cajon Pass. Normally the IBOC noise dominates 89.7 on the 210 until near the San Bernardino line in Upland. This amounts to about 10 miles of distance that IBOC costs you on the 210.

It is too bad that this lousy "technology" is such a detriment to your signal. In many areas of Eastern L.A. county, KFSH and the 90.3 Air1 translators are about the only options for Christian music, and both have major signal problems in the area. Without the IBOC, you had a much better signal than both of them in these areas.

I hope this useful, I'm not sure if you have considered the impact of KCRW's IBOC before, or if anyone else has complained. Most people who experience the degraded signal probably do not know the cause, I suspect there is a sizeable amount of listeners that are lost due to this interference.

Regards,
Bryce Foster - KG6VSW

Hi Bryce,

Thank you very much for your reception report. It confirms what we have suspected for quite some time. We first noted the IBOC interference shortly after KCRW started their IBOC transmission, when we noticed a huge drop in listenership in the East LA Arbitron survey reports.

It is unfortunate that the FCC has allowed this "legal" form of interference. It is even more frightening that the FCC is considering allowing IBOC transmissions to increase power to -10dB, an increase of 10db power. I just got word that the FCC may make a ruling on this docket Before the completion of an ongoing comprehensive NPR research project designed to determine the amount of interference such additional power will cause interference to analog signals.

It would be a great help to us and other analog broadcasters if you would send comments urging the FCC to postpone any decision in this matter until AFTER the completion of the NPR study.

Below I have copied an excerpt for the "CGC Communicator", (a newsletter published by Robert Gnosett, Consulting Engineer):

COMMENTS NEEDED ON PROPOSED FM HD RADIO POWER INCREASE

The FCC is requesting comments on specific issues regarding the proposed +10 dB FM HD Radio (IBOC) power increase. Watch out. For one thing, the Commission is considering granting power increases before NPR's detailed interference studies are completed -- the first comprehensive studies in this field.

The Commission needs to hear from you. The message is: Wait until the facts are determined before doing anything. Analog FM could suffer serious and permanent damage by premature HD power increases. There is a short time frame for filing Comments.

I believe your listening report would be of great interest to the broadcast engineering community in general. May I have your permission to pass it on to Robert Gonsett, so that he may include it in an upcoming issue of the CGC Communicator?

Thank you again for your report and your interest in listening to 89.7 KSGN.

Hi Bruce,

Feel free to forward my comments along to whoever you'd like. I'm glad they are of interest!

I can imagine that the appx. 10 miles of coverage lost on the 210 is reflected throughout Eastern Los Angeles county and would account for the hit in your ratings here, particularly in areas where terrain favors signals to the south and west.

I was aware of the 10db power boost proposal, but I hadn't heard about it in a while until you brought this up. I would be glad to send a comment to the FCC, and I can relay this tidbit of information to the FM DXing list I belong to if that would help. Obviously our interests are a bit biased, but the harmful effects of IBOC go beyond DXing when it legitmately causes interference. I'm not sure where exactly your protected countour falls, but regardless, even "out-of-market" listeners would seem to be valuable as a non-commercial station, as their donations and support are just as good as someone down the street from the transmitter site.

Best wishes - I hope further harm can be avoided, and am glad to see that not all broadcasters are completely on-board with the expansion of IBOC to destructive levels.

- Bryce

The first PL-300WT review just appeared on the Yahoo Ultralight DX group. The DSP appears to be used in IF filtering as hoped, and Gary DeBock reports that selectivity is nothing short of phenomenal; comparable to what is seen by adding third-party filters to a stock radio.

Sensitivity on MW and FM is also improved vs earlier Tecsun models (especially low end of the MW band). Unfortunately SW sensitivity (the real focus of this newsgroup) is not so great; perhaps other smaples will prove better or the use of an outboard antenna may help.

Grundig-Eton has a radio called the G8 which superficially resembles this model; oddly it does not advertise DSP circuitry and the preliminary specs describe a larger box. Unclear whether this is just a misunderstanding, or if Tecsun has again build a custom version for Grundig-Eton which has been stripped down from the domestic model (which two eBay sellers have for $50 plus $24 shipping).

This bodes well for the PL-310/PL-330 which have keypads and look to be the DSP-based replacements for the PL-200/PL-230.

The Ibiquity /FCC Relationship. The Corruption goes on-and-on.

If you think the FCC is a credible Government Agency – think again.
Take for instance BPL Case Studies made by the FCC.

“The FCC not only withheld the internal studies until it was too late to comment, but had release portions of studies that may not support its own conclusions regarding BPL.”

“The Court agreed with the ARRL that the FCC had failed to comply with the Administrative Procedure Act (APA) by not fully disclosing for public comment the staff studies on which it relied and that "there is no APA precedent allowing an agency to cherry-pick a study on which it has chosen to rely in part."”

How can anyone believe that the FCC is unbiased concerning iBiquity digital radio?

The FCC’s corruption is legendary and it goes on and on.

Great post Dave - Listeners have a chance to comment on FCC MM Docket No. 99-325 concerning IBOC interference. I encourage everyone to do it. I did it and it wasn't hard. Radio stations alone don't have much say in it's proliferation, but listeners could make the difference. We need to do it before this is allowed to escalate further. Now's a chance to make a difference.

I went to the Gestapo (Wal Mart) store for a new bathroom window curtain.They don't have them anymore.Then I went across Highway 18 to the other Gestapo (Lowe's) store, because somebody told me to go there and buy something called Jungle Soil Conditioner, for my flower bed that someday I hope to find something to put in there so I can grow some stupid flowers.The Lowe's Gestapo store doesn't sell it anymore.

I figured I would stop off at the Sears store on my way home to doggy's couch and see if Sears sells bathroom window curtains, but I forgot to go to the Sears store.Pizz on it!, I am tired, I am taking the rest of the day off.Those F..ked up stores don't sell the common ordinary house hold things people need anymore.F..k em!

Tomorrow morning I will go to Hutto's Yard and Garden Center on Ellis Avenue like I should have done in the first place.I KNOW Hutto's has what I need for that stupid flower bed on top of my concrete septic tank in my front yard.

Everybodyï¿½s a Fascist Now!

by Kevin Alfred Strom
http://www.kevinalfredstrom.com/2009/06/everybodys-a-fascist-now/

IF YOU WATCH FOX NEWS or read political blogs you probably have a headache from all the accusations of ï¿½fascismï¿½ bouncing back and forth from left to right and back again. ï¿½Obamaï¿½s a fascist!ï¿½ ï¿½Rush is a fascist!ï¿½ ï¿½Bush is a fascist!ï¿½ ï¿½The Zionists are fascists!ï¿½ ï¿½Your grandmotherï¿½s a fascist!ï¿½ ï¿½Kevin Strom is a fascist!ï¿½ And then we have that ridiculous neologism ï¿½Islamofascism.ï¿½

Modern Republicans and Democrats both misuse the term ï¿½fascistï¿½ ï¿½ and to such a degree that the misuse has started to be enshrined in dictionaries.

[ILLUSTRATION: John F. Kennedy delivering a State of the Union address, with fasces immediately behind him.]

In the broad sense, the term (from the Latin for ï¿½bundleï¿½) just refers to the strength of a united people ï¿½ as in the ancient Roman story in which a father asks his sons to gather sticks from the forest and bring them to him. Taking the wooden rods one at a time, he easily breaks each of them in two. But when the very same rods are bound together ï¿½ symbolizing a united family or people ï¿½ they are unbreakable.

[ILLUSTRATION: The symbol of the French republic.]

The fascist symbol, or fasces, usually with the rods bound around an axe to signify authority, thus became the symbol of the Roman Republic and its ideals. It was also used by the French republic, was adopted by Mussoliniï¿½s 20th century Fascist movement, and was also used by the United States during the same era ï¿½ among many others.

The U.S. dime displayed the fasces on its reverse from 1916-1945; and it is displayed prominently to this day in the main chamber of the U.S. Senate.

Itï¿½s also a prominent element of Daniel Chester Frenchï¿½s highly idealized sculpture in the Lincoln Memorial.

In the narrow sense, fascism means specifically the socio-political movement popularized by Benito Mussolini and to some degree carried on into more recent times by the Movimento Sociale Italiano.

It was characterized by the ideal of the state as expressing the will of the people, with the people being an organic, natural entity, not divided into classes with differing economic interests but instead with each sector of society (such as farmers, laborers, administrators, merchants, et cetera) able to elect its own legislative representatives. In practice, many compromises were made with allies and with the old order of things.

The central government and ruling party had a lot of authority under Italian Fascism, and that is really the only similarity real fascism shares with the pop-definition of the word. But other central governments and parties past and present had similar or greater degrees of authority ï¿½ such in fact being the norm for almost all human societies throughout history.

[ILLUSTRATION: Abraham Lincoln by Daniel Chester French: Lincoln's hands rest on two large fasces.]

The pop-definition of ï¿½fascistï¿½ is roughly ï¿½big, bad, scary, and mean authoritarianism.ï¿½

ï¿½Fascistï¿½ is used by the Democrat gang to refer to the Republicans and their often authoritarian views on (among other things) war, drugs, and sexuality ï¿½ and by the Republican gang to refer to the Democrats and their often authoritarian views on (among other things) freedom of association, financial privacy, and taxation.

Itï¿½s misused that way because both sides think they can make brownie points by scaring voters with the spectre of authoritarianism from the rival gang.

Hereï¿½s the truth: both modern Republicans and modern Democrats score pretty high on the authoritarianism scale ï¿½ somewhat higher, Iï¿½d say, than the Movimento Sociale Italiano.

Wrong, Kev. It is the US House which has the fasces.

Facism, in the modern sense, is a right-wing authoritarian political system, strong on nationalism and symbolism, favoring industry, smothering dissent, and definitely not progressive.

Lay down some plastic? I won't do that.Think about it, you use a string trimmer,,, what happens to that plastic string when it wears down? People are laying down plastic (some of those Stupid string trimmers have plastic blades, same difference) all over their yards with those Stupid string trimmers.I have deeeeecided (deeeeecided ~ Walter Brennan) since my old electric Troy Built string trimmer burnt out a few years ago, I don't want any more string trimmers!

America must pull out of Chicago now!!!!!

4442 killed in Chicago since since 2001!

Good thing the city has such a stringent gun control - d'oh.

Doctors accidently killed 9,000 times more people by mistake than guns did last year in America.
When we socialize medicine that number will go down - bwaHAHAHAHA ROTFLMAO!!!

I posted this once. You do not need someone else's opinion as there is plenty of audio and video clips of her disqualifying herself on the web.
No "Borking" required.

You go watch the video clips and see if you want her on the supreme court.

The Obomination is the worst of Bush if you want to look at it that way.
Where appropriate, just take anything Bush did wrong, multiply it by at least ten, and prepare to pay for it the rest of your life.

Truth??? BWHAHAHAHAHAHA! If's right up there with the Obama BC nonsense.

You're the one chugging the kook aid, Telemundoh. By the gallon.

There are no Hillbillies around here, not that I know of anyway.Hillbillies are much smarter than those ''people'' who use deraugatory language agains't Hillbillies.

Some of those Hillbillies went to Sutter's and discovered GOLD.

Perhaps he merely needs a hobby. Would you recommend, say, Shortwave radio listening to him?

I'm sure he could also use a bit of assistance with antenna design and placement.

He WILL appreciate the help and turn into a vibrant, fun loving member of the wireless society.

LOL, I guess I'm not as feeble minded as you are. I solder a few joints, post, solder a few more, watch TV, etc. Not all that hard to, for me at least. I've been putting stuff together a long long time now, and can plug in parts and solder with the best of them.

I guess I don't waste as much time as you do, since I don't think about ultra right wing politics constantly while assembling those preamps. Tomorrow night, I'll be aligning my NRD-515, and posting at the same time.

Nothing you do or say would surprise me, unless you say something non ultra right wing, with regards to politics. You make a very conservative friend of mine look like a member of the green party. You're totally over the top.

But always entertaining. Especially when you're pissed, like you are most of the time.

Doesn't being pissed all the time get really old?

Try it in the evening or morning near the balcony or outdoors. It is one of the best portable receivers and it should perform better than that. I have one and I am quite satisfied with it. Good luck!

Exactly - It's called Liberal Fascist propaganda and works wonders on PubliK School victoms.

Try again. The guy was a member of a Christian anti-abortion group. He's pretty well known in the area by local and federal police.

Oh.. by the way, I don't believe in abortion. Period. Though there MAY be certain VERY NARROW circumstances where the mother would otherwise die, where I MIGHT be persuaded otherwise. That being said, murder is WRONG.
There is NO legitimate excuse (justified homicide). Unless or until the law is change, the garbage is legal, and it is not up to any citizen to decide the law is wrong and take issues into their own hands.

No one is advocating that, not in the least. Single-payer health care simply takes the profit motive out of providing health insurance. The government has less motivation to deny you care than your present for-profit insurance company. Try to decompress and use your brain for once.

A Black Muslim Terrorist opens fire on military recruiting office in Arkansas, Killing one & wounding another.

The AP did not report his affiliation with a home grown terrorist group identified by the Homeland Security dept. Was he a conservative, anti-illegal immigration, right wing militia, Republican, police, Military Vet, or NRA?

Maybe he is just a Black Muslim terrorist.

Is this the start of Black Muslim terrorism since the Obama Justice Dept dismissed all charges against the Black panther Part for using weapons to block white people at polling places from voting in the last election?

The debris is scattered over 5 km of ocean, about 30 hours after the incident. Oceans have currents, the atmosphere above them has winds. The plane could have done a full vertical nose dive and the floating pieces would, 30 hours later, be widely dispersed.

You can't help but be consistently wrong, can you. I understand respect perfectly well. For some people I have plenty of respect. For you, I have absolutely no respect. You're running in last place all by yourself and that's your only achievement in life; in your case, it's a well-deserved achievement.

Make sure your wire has "some air". ie, get it out of the confines of your brick or steal-renforced concrete building. Even just a couple of metres out a window will make a big difference if that's the cause.

You mau also want to look for local sources of intereference. Walk around the house with your radio and see what devices make the static/noice worse when you get close to them. If you're in an apartment block you obviously can't do anything about your neighbours, which is why getting the antenna outside is important. You can attach the wire to a piece of grounded coax to try and avoid in-house interference.

For a good general introduction to listening on Shortwave, get hold of a copy of Passport to World Band Radio - either buy it or borrow from your local library.

For a good refernce list of shortwave broadcasts, check out http://www.eibi.de.vu/. Load up the CSV in Excel (or your spreadsheet application of choice) and filter on English and your local region and surrounding regions.

Cheers,
Paul

At this point, I don't think so. AirBus has said there may have been computer issues. There have been on other flights where one of the computers onboard lied to the others, and started the plane into a (shallow) dive. Computers being what they are, the glitch could turn into something far more catastrophic under the right (wrong) set of circumstances. Combine that with the severe weather the plane was encountering at the time...

There you go, something you can relate to at last. Now you can go back

I'm very consistently right and rarely wrong so that's why you should listen to me instead of the idiot voice in your head. Not having respect for me is just another mistake you are making. Your assessment of my life based only on ignorance is typical of how you operate as far as I can tell from your posting style.

Top Posters of the Month? Watch out, I am gaining on ya.

The City has a law agains't junk cars/other vehicles sitting around.Over the last two years or so, they have impounded hundreds of junkers.There is another junk car across the street, up the street from me, that car has been sitting in their yard for about two years.I ought to call the City and tell them to come get those cars, including that Chevrolet car in that back yard next door to me.

I wonder if there is ever a 'right' time to make jokes. I know it's probably part of human nature to make light of disasters. It helps us cope.

I'm as guilty as the next guy and remember making John Wayne Gacie (sp ?) jokes after they caught him. I also remember thinking that if I were the parent of one of the victims, I would have punched me in the head a few times.

Tell us more about the sodomy committed on young children in Abu Ghraib.
Did the US Marines have to look at pictures of naked kids BEFORE the anal penetration took place?

What was the response of the mothers of the children who were forced to watch these abominations?

Do you support the actions of your government when they condone these perversions?

Will there be full disclosure coming soon?

Bwahaha, yeah, that you are doing yourself....lol. That's OK Mike, everytime you do that - I make up the difference to your stupid game so it doesn't matter. But apparently those "stars" means something to you but not to anyone else. ;-) Steve posts something that is group related and people appreciate and you give him the vaunted "One Star" which means everything to you. Man, it must suck being you and having so much hate in your heart to people. :-(

It's freaking hilarious Telamon, everytime, no matter what you guys post (Steve/you/RHF) that jackball goes and gives it one star...lol.
At least I'm honest about it and even if the fake teacher posts something that is good (not often) I will rate it accordingly.

But when you see one of you guys post and it "supposedly" says that 17 different users rated it one star then I go out of spite and even it up. He's a jackball IMO and he's a fraking teacher?<rolling my eyes

He does, he'll post in here like he is just absolutely the best friend anyone would ever want, it is eerily weird and fake. He can only keep it up for so long though (doesn't last long) and then his true character comes back out for everyone to see.

IMO he actually is a dangerous person and I don't say that much about anyone. I'd love to sit in on one of his classes and just observe him, that would be a hoot. He truly, IMO - needs mental help but obviously he is too smart to get it.

Steve. Since I use google to read usenet, for years I had no idea about the stars. I would see them from time to time but didn't give them a second thought.

"Ironically" after I mentioned them in here, all the sudden I started seeing one stars on my posts. And like with your posts, it didn't matter what I posted - I'd see a one star...lol...then I caught on and understood it was Jackball being an idiot.

Only someone with no life and that has a personal vendetta towards someone in here would take their time and continue to switch screen names, not to post anything, but just to give you one stars is "almost" unbelievable. But I see him do it anyhow, so then he can bring it up to you. It's like something someone would do in high school. You or Telamon or RHF could post something in here on topic and that people want to read or make a note on.....and that jackball still gives it one star.

n the United States, the party system wasn't developed based on strong ideological differences, for example, the Democrats of the South have traditionally been right wing, while northern Democrats are traditionally left wing, although particularly since the 1970s the Democrats in general have tended more to the left and Republicans to the right. Ideologically, all major US parties are Liberal and always have been. Essentially they follow classic liberalism, merging constitutionalism with free markets and centering the differences on the influences of social liberalism.[3]

Social liberalism may also refer, as it usually does in North American media, simply to support for educational reform, civil rights, human rights, and civil liberties. In this sense, one could be socially liberal and economically conservative (often referred to as economic liberalism), as is the case with those called variously classical liberals, neoliberals, libertarians, and conservative liberals/liberal conservatives.

Presently, the agendas of European social liberals and modern American liberals tend to be very similar, with both taking a distinctly left-of-center stance on social issues, whilst taking a more centrist stance on economic issues.[30] Since the ideological center of the United States lies further to the right than that of Western Europe, policies considered centrist, or even right-wing, in Europe may be considered left-of-center in the U.S. Universal single-payer health care, for example, is considered a largely centrist policy in Europe but distinctly center-left in the U.S. Social democrats and socialists may also be labeled as "liberal" in the U.S. but constitute only a small minority of the American left. Liberals in the U.S. constitute roughly 19% to 26% of the population and form circa 46% of the Democratic base.[31]

Like European social liberals, most modern American liberals advocate cultural pluralism, diplomacy over military action, stem-cell research, the legalization of same-sex marriage, secular government, environmental protection laws and access to abortion.

Here's the thing. I will resort to name calling when I think it effective.
This isn't about losing my ability to think and getting emotional.
There are modalities of thought and indicators of them. For instance if one uses the phrase "I see what you are saying" they are indicating the visual nature of their thoughts. By understanding the way people think about things and how they make choices one can target one's communications in a way to achieve one's goals.

Is winning an argument all that important?
I find getting to the truth of the matter more interesting.

Sometimes I will respond to an article without intending to influence the writer at all. My intent is a bit like pointing to a pile on the sidewalk and asking: "OK, who didn't curb their dog?"

Facism is about authority and this is decidedly a right wing corner stone even if the motif is community. Many right wing groups will usurp the language of the left. Just consider
concern but something else.

The 5 km long debris zone, found by the Brazilian team about 30 hours after the crash / disappearance is now about 30 km long, "consistent with the action of currents in that part of the Atlantic" since there are still 12 foot and greater seas in the area.

Three days and counting after the incident, the waves and currents have moved the debris area over 100 miles away from where it was first spotted.

Very Christian of you to threaten people, but then I'm very amazed at

Yes, I bother Steve, much, much more than he does me. After all, just Now, you are the one lying. I openly admitted for years I hadn't yet finished the doctorate. Steve went into the archives and quoted a conversation years ago where I was talking about docorate school experiences. The only call Steve made was to the Registrar at Wayne State trying to fraudently order my transcripts.

Why does a Christian choose to lie and bend the truth? Because you're no more a Christian than is Satan.

You are, as always, a joke.

I'm not the one using multiple sceennames, like you! Why don't you be honest and admit how many names you post under?

Even if I did switch names, I can only evaluate a post once. I believe they use IP addresses to limit you to a single evaluation. And, as a matter of fact, I give very high evaluations to a number of Steve's on-topic posts. I'm not sure if I can remember the last time you made a SW-related post.

You two are continuing the "anybody whose politics I don't like is a fascist" nonsense. You're both wrong.

It's false to claim that either fascism in the narrow sense (Italian Fascism and the MSI) _or_ fascism in the broad sense (as in the Roman ideals and those of their successors) is strictly a "leftist" or "rightist" phenomenon, however that vague spectrum is understood.

See:

http://www.kevinalfredstrom.com/2009/06/everybodys-a-fascist-now/

It's also good to remember that the "left-right spectrum" doesn't describe reality very well. If a racial-nationalist wants to reduce the size of the military, regulate industrial outsourcing to keep wages high, adopt strict environmental protection rules, and encourage rational contraception use to keep the human population at a sustainable level, yet repeals all taxes on small family-owned businesses and drastically reduces the power of the government in most areas of life, is he a man of the "right" or of the "left"? Meaningless!

With every good wish,

Kevin.

RHF,

Why lie? You can't give a hundred five stars. Google only allows each IP address one eval. You're blocked from additional evals.

Try it. Let's see if you can give me a hundred one-stars.

Order? I did no such thing! I merely asked the nice woman to check the records to see if you had (as you had claimed) indeed obtained a PhD!

The fact remains that you did claim to have a PhD and it was not merely a case of you, "talking about 'docorate' school experiences", you lying dufus.

As the Italians are still with us, I must assume that the Italian manifestation of fascismo is the most valid model and analog to what happens when right-wingers start fake wars and start waving the flag.

Will you leave the newsgroup if I can produce posts from years ago where I directly told you I did not have a PhD before you called Wayne State posing as an employer? Before you called my employer trying to have me fired?

Of course not. You have no honor. But they are clearly in the archive.
You call me an "academic buffoon," but I still think that's clearly a Money. You beef up the airframe to make it stronger it costs more to make and it weighs more costing more money in fuel to fly the same distance. The plane is a large expensive object as they are currently constructed. You can make an instrumentation box very strong and fly it at little comparative cost but not the whole plane.

How can anyone hate a people who do so much for little children? In the name of equality, do you think the Marines took turns sodomizing the children based on race?

Hispanic, Black, Caucasian and Oriental Marines waiting their turn to win the hearts and minds of mothers gone insane with grief....

Anyone who thinks this is a just war needs redemption. They're going to hell otherwise.

You are so twisted you do not even think what they did is wrong.

You're welcome! Hey, I changed my mind.

Did you also find the post where Bryant claimed to have a PhD, and do you tote?

You don't need an oven to do most SMD stuff, just steady hands and a tiny iron. A vacuum desoldering station makes it easy to pull parts.
The preamps I did were a mix of parts, a little SM pc board and a bandpass filter made the old fashioned way. Even wound a couple of coils.

I don't call them, since I can't keep from cracking up. I leave calls to the professional goofball callers, like Captain Jenks, and to right wing whackos, such as yourself. I did call a former teacher of mine who was fired for helping kids cheat on scholarship exams, using the "SAM" program on my computer to ask him questions. He got very angry, kind of like you do. He got hired by a military school soon after. I guess being dishonest was no problem for them.

As my hands get steadier my vision gets worse. I use Mageyes and a pointy Hakko type soldering station for discrete SMT component changing (4 "lead" FETs usually).

If I was building a new board from scratch I'd use paste and hot air of some kind.

The only reason communism is still alive there is that they still need time.

Time to make sure all the children and relatives of the party bosses have their own factories and businesses. They set up a monopoly on everything for themselves and then declare communism obsolete.

That's the way it's worked in every other 'former' communist State.

The rich get richer. Then there will be NO obligations on the State to provide anything to anybody. Starvation makes people work for next to nothing. A veritable businessman's paradise.

Communism has always been a farce, but this new use of it as a business creation tool is the worst aspect ever.

Well, conditions are pretty poor due to low sunspot activity. Best bet is to tune 5.8 to 6.2 MHz and 7.2 to 7.5 MHz in the evenings, 15.0 to 15.5 MHz and 11.5 to 12.1 MHz during daylight hours. And 9.3 to 10.0
MHz most anytime.

You should be able to hear Radio Australia very well in english on 9.58 MHz around 7:00 a.m. ET.

> If my radio defective or do i need a bigger antenna?

What is your antenna?

Also, radio reception is all about signal to noise ratio. If you have a lot of locally generated noise, it's gonna be tough to hear anything.

Hey! Just being honest. I've looked inside a few of those fine receivers and a couple of them were scary, like I might have assembled at about age 8 or 9. They work, but for how long, and how well? One had a whole lot of extra wire length and they just looped it up and cable tied it together. Problem was, that looping made the radio pick up a whine that about drove the owner nuts. I shortened and separated it all, and it worked ok.

The best portable I ever had was my Panasonic RF-2200. Fun, but as a UTE listener, not all that useful, except for listening to numbers stations.
I do miss the commie made up news though, it was amusing.

I'm at the point where I have to take off my glasses and get really close. Reading glasses help a little, sometimes, but I always end up taking them off and just getting really close. I can't remember the brand of the tiny soldering irons I bought at a local electronics store that was closing for an insane price a few years ago. There were all kinds of tips that came with it, and the owner of the store tossed in the remaining ones he had, as I had spent a lot of money there over the years. Came in very useful for swapping out a ton of caps on the Kenwood TS-850 I got super cheap a while back. Very nice receiver.

Well, so far, I haven't done any scratch stuff involving SM. Most of the time, the board is bought from some place, like FAR, and I put it together, sometimes mod it too. I have a couple of friends who have vision issues and so I am the one who gets to do all their soldering and PC assembly. I get paid sometimes, sometimes it's trade for something, but it's usually fun.

The same question from me. I live in San Francisco bay area. I have a Sony 2010. My antenna is a wire connected to my metal gutter. Stopped listening when the BBC stopped broadcasting to US.

I'm looking for a reason to listen to SW again but need some help with time/freq of English speaking stations.

Any recommendations?

I have gone over to an active flag antenna and a RX 4 square, so my loop is up for sale- this is a p/u only as the loop is constructed of 412 hard line.
Built in broadband preamp. Beautifully machined. 150KHz-->10MHz.
DC is multiplexed up the coax. This is a p/u only in western NC. Jpegs to serious buyers.
$160.00.

Though the latter appears to have a bit of a problem at the moment, which will probably get sorted out soon.

Yes, it's not as much fun as it used to be, especially with the poor propagation, many long-time SW broadcasters calling it quits, and all the paid religious broadcasts all over the spectrum.

I'm on Long Island, so I can't give specific advice as to what's hearable in SF. There are websites that list current english language shortwave broadcasts.

http://www.primetimeshortwave.com/

You can still hear BBC, it just takes a little more work. Also Radio Canada, Deutsche Welle, France, Romania, etc. And the ubiquitous China Radio.

I still pick up Dr Gene Scott (and you don't need a 2010 for that!) and he's been dead for years. I guess Widow Melissa still needs him to bring in the donations.

Art,

One of the original questions in the thread was re: WBCQ (although I think he was using an old freq).

You're on LI; I'm in NYC. What's your reception like on WBCQ (7415)? I can get them so-so, as an average, in late afternoon and very early evening. But come sundown, they might as well be TXing from the moon.
The dark side. It's all I can do to make out the Last Day Prophet's harangue.

I've been given arguments that the skip zone is in effect. That seems nutty to me, given the distance. But maybe the terrible sun cycles make that reasonable... What's your experience?

(Others in the NY area who have fished for BCQ are also invited to reply)

Internet and Short Wave Talk Host Arrested In NJ

Hal Turner
Internet radio host HAL TURNER -- accused of inciting Catholics to "take up arms" and singling out two CONNECTICUT lawmakers and a state ethics official on a website -- was taken into custody in NEW JERSEY late WEDNESDAY after state Capitol police in CONNECTICUT obtained a warrant for his arrest. THE HARTFORD COURANT writes, "TURNER, who has been identified as a white supremacist and anti-Semite by several anti-racism groups, hosts an Internet radio program with an associated blog. On TUESDAY, the blog included a post that promised to release the home addresses of state Rep. MICHAEL LAWLOR, state Sen. ANDREW MCDONALD and THOMAS JONES of the State Ethics Office.

"Mr. Turner's comments are above and beyond the threshold of free speech," Capitol Police Chief MICHAEL J. FALLON said in an e-mail announcing the warrant. "He is inciting others through his website to commit acts of violence and has created fear and alarm. He should be held accountable for his conduct."

"The remarks on the blog were a reaction to the recent controversy over a bill that would have changed the way the Roman Catholic Church is governed, taking power away from church officials and turning it over to lay members. It was pulled in mid-MARCH following an outcry from Catholics across the state and questions about its constitutionality."

One part of the post read, "If any state attorney, police department or court thinks they're going to get uppity with us about this; I suspect we have enough bullets to put them down, too."

TURNER also allegedly said the following: "Physician LEROY CARHART of OMAHA, NE wants to continue providing third-term abortions after the brazen slaying of his friend and colleague GEORGE TILLER ... Gee, this is becoming a 'target-rich environment!' ... I suspect someone has a bullet for this guy too. I guess we'll just have to wait and see."

Your military is sodomizing ten year old Iraqi children with their mothers watching and you want me not to mention it? Where is your head at?

Is sodomizing of children something you condone in your own house?

If pointing out atrocities committed with YOUR tax dollars is offensive to you, perhaps you should tell your government not to do it anymore.

Twenty Years Later

So here we are, at another June 4 that much of the rest of the world won’t notice. It is all the more painful here in the West in that this anniversary – the 20th is one of our more important ones. It will hurt to see those who so bravely gave their lives be so cruelly forgotten.

The irony here – and one we must remember – is that this year, more than any other except perhaps for 1989 itself, we can truly say that those who were murdered did not die in vain. For whatever the rest of the world thinks of the Tiananmen Square bloodbath, the Chinese Communist Party is more afraid of it than it has ever been.

It would seem odd that this would be so. After all, the cadres have spent the last two decades erasing the Tiananmen Spring from local history books, and have rather brilliantly co-opted the previously non-Communist elite into the regime. Likewise, they seem to have convinced much of the rest of the world to move on and embrace the “new” China of the 21st Century. However, below the surface, it’s abundantly clear that the pressures that led the people to take to the streets in 1989 have never really gone away. They just went underground, and thus have become the cadres’ obsession.

We remember the students of 1989, but the CCP also remembers the laborers, farmers, pensioners, and other ordinary Chinese who joined the demonstrations (yes, that’s plural – it’s believed that 1 in 10 Chinese citizens joined some demonstration in hundreds of cities and towns that year). The cadres knew how to handle the intellectuals: a dose of radical nationalism and a slew of licenses-to-steal (otherwise known as Party Cards) did much of the trick. Thus, Beijing appears the model of peace and tranquility – to locals and outsiders.

Go beyond Beijing, Shanghai, Hong Kong, or Shenzhen, however, and it’s a different story. The anger, fear, and frustrations are still there, met not with kind words and incentives but party-sanctioned violence and corruption. In fact, the CCP pyramid scheme used to win over the intellectuals in the cities actually made the situation in the countryside worse – since it was peasants and laborers who were forced to pay for the CCP’s plans.

This is the real reason Tiananmen – even today – must remain buried in the past: too many people outside the cities remember what really happened, and have no interest in forgetting. We who live and work outside China rarely see this, in no small part because the cadres cannot afford to let us. Much like the hard-line Communists in Europe saw their regimes collapse when the outside world noticed the people’s anger, so, too, would the CCP if the foreign approval upon which it depends turned into wishing – and helping – the Chinese take their country back.

So, to prevent this, the cadres have to make sure June 4 passes by quietly – or, to be more accurate, that something else distracts our attention. For years, it hasn’t taken very much (a late Presidential primary, the proximity of the D-Day anniversary, etc.). This year, however, the anniversary so spooked the cadres that they apparently allowed (and perhaps even encouraged) their Korean colony to become a nuclear power – a rather large role of the dice that, if they’re not careful, could lead to more Americans and others catching on to the ruse.

That the CCP felt compelled to let Kim Jong-il frighten the entire free world, spin South Korea permanently away from the pro-Beijing “sunshine” of the last decade, and nearly inject an unexpected hawkishness into the Obama Administration is a sign of just how desperate the regime wanted the Tiananmen anniversary off the front pages. If they remain that scared of the 20-year-old crackdown, lovers of freedom cannot be completely discouraged.

Moreover, despite what the CCP would have us believe, the future is actually bright for anti-Communists. After two decades of prosperity-fueled corruption, the regime is facing a recession that could leave tens of millions of Party Members without the ill-gotten perks to which they think they are entitled. India and the United States have moved closer than at any time in 40 years, while CCP ally Pakistan is losing credibility in Washington faster than it’s losing territory to the Taliban. Japan and South Korea are now firmly in the anti-Communist camp, and even Taiwan, despite the Communist-friendly Nationalist government, seems to be returning to its anti-Communist roots.

All the while, the historical symbol of bloody repression hangs everywhere. Invisible but undeniable, it reminds tens of millions of Chinese that there was, once, a different path, and makes laughable every effort by the CCP to make it go away. With what the regime felt it had to do to keep the past away, we can truly see that it (the past) is still strong enough to guide the present and the future.Communism in China will fall; the only question remains: how much time, blood, and treasure must be lost before it does? That question can only be answered by those who helped accelerate the end of European Communism but, for now, have yet to do the same to Chinese Communism – namely, us.

"For a short time, Britons from all regions of the country and its Empire, and from every social background, came together in a single cause, casting aside all previous political party and class divisions and joined hands in a common comradeship of the trenches.

And for the first time in centuries politicians in this country put aside party warfare and joined forces in working for a single goal. A coalition government was formed in 1916 and proceeded to coordinate the whole national life in one mighty endeavor. Laissez-faire Economics were dropped as Britain found that these methods, practiced so long in the years of peace had rendered her industry hopelessly incapable of producing her needs of survival in this titanic conflict. New industries, such as chemicals, machine tools and optics, had to be built practically from scratch, while others, such as electricity, aircraft and aero-engines, had to be greatly expanded, in order to provide the sinews of war; and this was done mainly on the initiative of the state. By the end of the war, tremendous strides had been made in making good these previous shortcomings of industry. What the theoretical stimulus of the "free market" had failed to do for decades beforehand was done in just three years of corporate effort, achieved by firm national leadership directing economic resources, and by the whole nation, and Empire, working as a team."

"Could not the super-human efforts displayed on the battlefield in the face of a dangerous adversity now be displayed again in the creation, from out of the rubble of newly born nations?"

"Sir Oswald Mosley... had crossed to the Labour benches after despairing of the Tories' ability or will to overcome the evils of poverty and unemployment in post 1918 Britain...

In time, however, Mosley came to recognize that in the ranks of Labour, however ideal the ends, there was a total incomprehension of, combined an unwillingness to accept, the necessary means... he said:

"This nation has to be mobilized and rallied for a tremendous effort, and who can do that except the government of the day?"

In the simplest terms, nationalism is no more than team spirit. Just as the school, the firm the regiment and the rugby XV need, each in its own way to be infused with a pride of identity and a desire to win, so must nations, if they are to be effective forces for the furtherance of their own interests and for their survival in the world, be galvanized by the same vital forces."

* Try switching the Antenna Gain Switch between : Local {Low} -to- Normal -to- DX {High} to see which position gives you the best results on the Shortwave Band for different Frequencies times. -ymmv-

* Try using the accessory External Shortwave Antenna; place the Antenna Wire next to {around} a Window, or out the Window strung-out to a tree.
Note - 1/8" / 3.5mm Antenna Input {Mono} Plug

* * Try an FM Folded Dipole Antenna wired to an 1/8" Mono Plug as an External Shortwave Antenna stretched-out across a Window.

Torture.

Strong word.

Always terrible, never justified.

Child Torture.

If there’s anything worse than torture, it is the torture of children.

Who would run a blog on this topic?

Jean Mercer.

Larry Sarner.

Linda Rosa.

Monica Pignotti.

Charly D. Miller.

Why do they do it?

Can they name the children who were tortured?
Can they name the torturers?

Is there more to this than vague accusations on “quack” “fringe” “skeptic” and “pseudoscience” blogs?

Will George Bush, Dick Cheney, Alberto Gonzales and Lynndie England post to this blog?

Pound Pup Legacy and Wayward Radish: You are on alert.

I stand against them. I hope I do not stand alone, but if I must, I will.

Will you stand with me?

Stop the torture.

Sounds like Turner is going to get rich off of the lawsuit he will be filling soon.

Most likely a case of erotic self-strangulation gone wrong. At best, there is a fine line between cumming and succumbing, and at age 72, those Shaolin reflexes probably aren't what they used to be.

I've heard that Bangcock is a popular tourist destination for those wishing to indulge in this pastime.

Is there a combination of key presses that will show the firmware version?

If not, is there a software means of getting it?

I'd like to know what I'm getting into.

Neither the ICOM knowledge base, nor the manual for R75 mentions firmware, any means of updating it, or whether there is a version tracker.

I had one of those for a while, not a kit though. I traded a bunch of CDs to a friend of mine for it. It wasn't much use for anything, and I traded it in at Universal for something.

Yeah, I just saw her on tv for the first time a couple weeks ago, extremely attractive woman IMO and very well spoken. Can fluently speak both the greek and hebrew which is impressive to me. Make no mistake about it, she knows her scriptures. Oddly enough I read either in here or somewhere else that she was a porn actress back in the day.
Kind of hard to believe seeing her now IMO.

Yeah, that would be an improvement. I have a much greater need for a bench type freq counter to align radios with. I got one super cheap, and it's amazingly accurate for $88 bucks, proven by WWV. Much better than the one I used to have that you had to let warm up for an hour to get it even close to stable, and about 4 if I wanted it to be dead on. The new one is ready to go in like 20 minutes.

Flying under the radar of the Google-Microsoft rivalry in the high-stakes search industry is a new gang of sites that build deep dossiers on your secrets -- and those of your pals -- just from your keyboard strokes.

The launch of Microsoft's Bing on Wednesday is putting the spotlight on some of the darker corners of the search industry, including sites that online experts say act like privacy pirates on the prowl for users' secrets.

Under the guise of "marketing research," these new search engines feed on social and people networks -- as well as contents of your e-mail address books -- to collect data ranging from favorite foods to photos with old flames.

The outreach of these commercial entities, which cost just a few bucks a month, makes Big Brother looks passé, according to the current issue of PC World.

PC World's wrap-up on the new "people eaters" says the firms operate legally because the information they capture is already out there for the public to see.

Among the leading outfits trafficking in your personal life are Spokeo, Pipl and CVGadget.

Spokeo's Web site promises to help you "uncover personal photos, videos and secrets," including "juicy" and "mouthwatering news about friends and coworkers."

"Aggregated identity is actually a new type of identity," says Spokeo CEO Harrison Tang.

Spokeo uses online address book contacts to track personal activity on the Internet, from blogs to file share services including Facebook and MySpace. Even random photos posted years ago on Flickr could pop up in seconds.

Other sources are Amazon Wish Lists, Pandora playlists and many of the movie rating sites, said PC World.

None of the new search outfits apologize for the prying.

"All you can do is learn to live with it," said Kevin B. McDonald, executive VP of Alvaka Network, a network management firm.

"That's the confines of the world we live in."

What does the Holy Quran say about Iron ?

By Magdy Abd Al-Shafy

I know that my article is not related to this group ,but it might be useful.

PLEASE read it.
The Holy Quran , the last revealed Holy book, carries within its holy verses the evidence toits Divine source .Among the many mitacles that the holy Quran contain is the scientific miracles , more than 1400 years ago ,
The Holy Quran gives scientific facts that have been discovered already and now are scientifically established . When the Holy Quran gives such facts it adds many dimensions to the question of faith in God ; in addition to the faith dimension there is a spiritual dimension that Only Moslems and reasonable non -moslems can feel . The Holy Quran stands in the face of the atheism claims . The other Holy books , being distorted and pregnant with scientific errors that may feed sckepticism , are no longer able to face atheism . Atheism are breeding and taking people away from the right path . The Holy Quran , being the most authenticated book , can be the challanger - No one can believe that a book with such astounding scientific miracles that revealed 1400 years ago can be man-mad . Such facts lead you to believe in God and to believe that the Holy Quran is God’s book …it is up to you to decide ……
Now to our scientific miracle
The Holy Quran ststes in one of its Holy verses that (iron) we send down from high skies , i.e, it is not formed in the ground . That what science has aleady discovered . Let’s read this short verse .
God says in the Holy Quran what means "And We sent down iron in which there lies great force and which has many uses for mankind…. (Surat al-Hadid: 25)
Modern astronomical findings have disclosed that the *l of iron found in our world has come down from the giant stars in outer space. The Holy Quran verse used The Arabic word " Anzlna " which could be rendered " and we sent down " . Iron needs so high temperature to be formed ;
Professor Armstrong works at NASA, otherwise known as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, where he is a well-known scientist here. He was asked about Iron and how it was formed. He explained how all the elements in the earth were formed.
He stated that the scientists have come only recently to discover the relevant facts about that formation process. He said that the energy of the early solar system was not sufficient to produce elemental

Iron. In calculating the energy required to form one atom of iron, it was found to be about four times as much as the energy of the entire solar system. In other words, the entire energy of the earth or the moon or the planet Mars or any other planet is not sufficient to form one new atom of iron, even the energy of the entire solar system is not sufficient for that. That is why Professor Armstrong said that the scientists believe that iron is an extraterrestrial that was sent to earth and not formed therein.
Unlike most of *ls , iron needs so high temperature to be formed . such high temperature is found no where in our solar system .
"Nova" and "supernova.
Temperature in the Sun is inadequate for the formation of iron. The sun has a surface temperature of 6,000 degrees Celsius, and a core temperature of approximately 20 million degrees. Iron can only be produced in much larger stars than the Sun, where the temperature reaches a few hundred million degrees. When the amount of iron exceeds a certain level in a star, the star can no longer accommodate it, and it eventually explodes in what is called a "nova" or a "supernova." These explosions make it possible for iron to be given off into space.

All this shows that iron did not form on the Earth, but was carried from Supernovas, and was "sent down," as stated in the verse. It is clear that this fact could not have been known in the 7th century, when the Qur’an was revealed. Nevertheless, this fact is related in the Qur’an, the Word of Allah, Who encompasses all things in His infinite knowledge.
Science says that iron and other materials were attracted to the earh when enetered the earth garvity field ; iron fell down on the earth as if it were rain . the earth at that time was like ash , not completely solid as it is now . Iron found its way deep to the core of the earth .

And We sent down iron in which there lies great force and which has many uses for mankind….
what is meant by (and in which there lies great force and which has many uses for mankind….
In his book Nature’s Destiny, the well-known microbiologist Michael Denton
Of all the ls there is none more essential to life than iron. It is the accumulation of iron in the center of a star which triggers a supernova explosion and the subsequent scattering of the vital atoms of life throughout the cosmos. It was the drawing by gravity of iron atoms to the center of the primeval earth that generated the heat which caused the initial chemical differentiation of the earth, the outgassing of the early atmosphere, and ultimately the formation of the hydrosphere. It is molten iron in the center of the earth which, acting like a gigantic dynamo, generates the earth’s magnetic field, which in turn creates the Van Allen radiation belts that shield the earth’s surface from destructive high-energy-penetrating cosmic radiation and preserve the crucial ozone layer from cosmic ray destruction…

in this connection the Holy Quran , to show God’s blessings , in another verse which implies anew scientific miracle says " And we have made the heavens as a canopy well guarded: yet do they turn away from the Signs which these things (point to)!(Al-Anbyaa :32)
Without the iron atom, there would be no carbon-based life in the cosmos; no supernovae, no heating of the primitive earth, no atmosphere or hydrosphere. There would be no protective magnetic field, no Van Allen radiation belts, no ozone layer, no l to make hemoglobin [in human blood], no l to tame the reactivity of oxygen, and no oxidative *bolism.
The intriguing and intimate relationship between life and iron, between the red color of blood and the dying of some distant star, not only indicates the relevance of this ls to biology but also the biocentricity of the cosmos…
This account clearly indicates the importance of the iron atom. The fact that particular attention is drawn to iron in the Qur’an also emphasises the importance of the element. In addition, there is another hidden truth in the Qur’an which draws attention to the importance of iron: Surat al-Hadid 25, which refers to iron, contains two rather interesting mathematical codes.
"Al- Hadid" is the 57th sura in the Qur’an. The abjad of the word "Al-Hadid" in Arabic, when the numerological values of its letters are added up, is also 57.
The numerological value of the word "hadid" alone is 26. And 26 is the atomic number of iron.
Moreover, iron oxide particles were used in a cancer treatment in recent months and positive developments were observed. A team led by Dr. Andreas Jordan, at the world famous Charité Hospital in Germany, succeeded in destroying cancer cells with this new technique developed for the treatment of cancer-magnetic fluid hyperthermia (high temperature magnetic liquid). As a result of this technique, first performed on the 26-year-old Nikolaus H., no new cancer cells were observed in the patient in the following three months.
This method of treatment can be summarised as follows:
1. A liquid containing iron oxide particles is injected into the tumour by means of a special syringe. These particles spread throughout the tumour cells. This liquid consists of thousands of millions of particles, 1,000 times smaller than the red blood corpuscles, of iron oxide in 1 cm3 that can easily flow through all blood vessels.42
2. The patient is then placed in a machine with a powerful magnetic field.
3. This magnetic field, applied externally, begins to set the iron particles in the tumour in motion. During this time the temperature in the tumour containing the iron oxide particles rises by up to 45 degrees.
In a few minutes the cancer cells, unable to protect themselves from the heat, are either weakened or destroyed. The tumour may then be completely eradicated with subsequent chemotherapy.43
In this treatment it is only the cancer cells that are affected by the magnetic field, since only they contain the iron oxide particles. The spread of this technique is a major development in the treatment of this potentially lethal disease. In the treatment of such a widespread disease as cancer, the use of the expression "iron in which there lies great force and which has many uses for mankind" (Qur’an, 57:25) in the Qur’an is particularly noteworthy. Indeed, in that verse, the Qur’an may be indicating the benefits of iron for human health. (Allah knows best.)

Check the International Time Standard frequencies, such as 5.0, 7.335, 10.0, or other beacon type transmissions to determine if your radio is functioning. Compare realtime notes with a friend having like hobby interest. You may simply have an issue which is known as 'Operator Error'.

There are a multitude of issues which may contributing to your lack of reception at any given moment. All are subject to change. Local time of day/night, season/current weather, frequency of operation, type of antenna relative to a given portion of the radio spectrum, antenna orientation, antenna gain, receiver sensitivity, selectivity, ionospheric conditions, sunspot activity, conditions at remote locations, are just a few issues that come to mind. I suggest you obtain a copy of an ARRL Antenna Handbook. Learn the basic principles, and then experiment with antenna construction. One of the best general purpose omni-directional antennas, to start with, IMHO, is a Discone Antenna. Once you listen, you can ascertain where a station is located, flip your Antenna Selector Switch from the Discone, over to a Beam Antenna, such as a Log-Periodic. I've even used a very large TV VHF/UHF antenna/booster with a medium antenna rotator somewhat effectively. Remember, there are second and third harmonics. But simply connecting to a set of bedsprings can serve the purpose. Longwire antennas are suitable, up to a point, but damn inconvenient, when it come to trying to change the orientation. !!! Be sure you rule out 'operator error'. Shortwave listening can be enjoyable, but very challenging; especially if you forget to connect the radio to the antenna.
Since antenna theory and construction rarely, if ever, changes, you don't need the latest handbook edition. About all that changes, is that someone may develop a different type of antenna, or improve upon an existing version.
I'd suggest you obtain a quality commercial shortwave receiver, and a good antenna tuner, to match the receivers' impedance to that of the antenna. Antennas are only efficient with-in a certain portion of the radio spectrum, and the tuner helps maintain that efficiency. Tune for maximum signal, even if initially it's only background noise, as you tune across the dial. There are several good reference books relative to frequency spectrum content, World Radio TV, Pirate Radio Stations, etc.. The internet has a wealth of information available. You never know what you may hear. How about being the first to hear 'Sputnik', or ground-air 'SkyKing Do Not Answer' transmissions to flying USAF command post aircraft, or International Space Station communications. If you're 'up to the challenge', you can become an Amateur Radio Operator, and convert from shortwave listening, to actually operating 'On The Air'; within authorized privileges.

I haven't listened to WBCQ in a while. But as for propagation, ground wave at 7 MHz is limited to about 30 miles or so. Anything beyond that is skywave. Lately skip distances have been long on 7 MHz, so that would account for you not hearing WBCQ over a Maine to NYC path. I've noticed the same thing on the 40 meter ham band. Signals are weak, and the skip is long, even at mid-day.

I know a lot of us collect radios. I have so many that my daughter is threatening to have me committed if I buy another one. So, to attempt peace in my family, while also trying to spread the radio hobby, I challenge people in here to engage in an effort that I've personally started for myself:

Find someone you think would be interested in the radio hobby and give away a radio you're not using.

I started this morning. I took two radios to work and gave them away. One went to the instructor across the hall, who has often been nice to me. He likes to mess around repairing old electronics, so I gave him a DX-440. The other radio was an old 10 meter transceiver that went to an electronics instructor. They both were absolutely enthralled with the equipment I gave to them.

Give it a try. It's a neat feeling.

If ACORN is initiating violence aganst others it is not liberal. Many use the rhetoric of the left to achieve their right wing goals. Different right winged factions fight each other for dominance.

> Yea the "Black Block" is a Right Wing Group -not-

While the liberal person will not shy away from defense he or she will not initiate force. Sometimes the chain of causality is hard to track so it may appear that way. For instance: was the outlawing of slavery an initiation of force?

There is no liberal facism. There is only Fascists adopting some liberal rhetoric for their own purposes of authoritarian control.

Note the Scientologist operative's use of Hubbard-style word bites (never more than 3-4 words to make a point, always a period at the end, very similar to 50s-60s advertising speak).

Somehow it doesn't serve to convince this operative's vendetta against Monica Pignotti, cult critic.

I gave it a try last night and at 7.415 I got SSB signal but it was too ragged

From what little I know, it isn't. I saw a reference to an IC-r75-12 somewhere in reference to a version number.

I can't find any reference in the manual to the usually non functioning 'synch' function either.

I can get this set for a fair price, but I need to know more about it before committing. The search for decent Linux control programs is also ongoing.

Any idea how long "long" is? Can it be heard well in Pittsburgh?
Detroit?

I used to have no trouble pulling in BCQ all night long. It was that way for years, which makes me think that there's some other factor at work here, that something has changed either environmentally or at the station.

Right. But for me at least I've only been inside the skip for the last year or two. In previous years, BCQ sounded like a local FM all night long. I wonder if its also the effect of the sun cycle.

In any case, BCQ must be skipping over a huge number of potential listeners, esp. as they have local roots and fans here in NYC.

If the radio isn't firmware upgradable through factory processes, it's likely that there is only one firmware version. But there are several variants of the radio itself, pursuant to bandplans and other limitations imposed by local governments worldwide. ICOM has historically, issued an appended model number for each variant. As well, radios powered by 12 volts as opposed to mains current, will carry a differentiating model number.

If it's a USA model, you've got the right version of the firmware.

Then, again, as with R71, the firmware may be field upgradable with a third party chip or daughterboard.

You may want to call Bellevue and ask for clarification. And I'm guessing KIWA would have that specialized knowledge, as well.

Times are Pacific Daylight Time.

The BBC is coming pretty good in the mornings on the West Coast (Seattle).
Try 11750, 6195, 5875 (new this year, I think), and 9740 in the mornings from about 5 to 9 AM. Also try 15360 starting at 5 PM. (Usually pretty weak, though).

Radio Australia. 1 AM to 6 or 7 AM. 9580, 9590, later 6020.
Around 7 AM, 7240 and 5995. Later in the morning try 9710, 9580, 11880.
Around 4 PM, 17795. Evening and night, a bunch of frequencies in the 15 MHz band, and then a couple in the 13 Mhz band (13630?). The asian programming track is even coming in around 9 PM on 17750 and 15415, although 15415 preempts the english with the news in Indonesian for the first half hour of the hours at 9 and 10 PM.

- China is a totalitarian fascist oligarchy.

Totalitarian One Party Oligarchy :

The Party Leader : Mao / Hitler

The Party Elite : The 1%ers

The One Party : CCP / NAZI

The Masses United Behind {Enslaved} by the Party
However the Historical Time-Lines are different.

The NAZI's moved from Freedom and Chaos

The Chinese CCP moved from War and Chaos

These things rule. Loosen it up with the bar, and use the post hole

Under the dirt near that old broken concrete driveway over there, there is gravel.I can hear it and feel it with my steel bar.The 2'' by 4'' by 8 feet long studs I bought at the Lowe's store two days ago, I cut off two feet with my electric chop saw, then I used my electric Skilsaw and I cut a point on one end of each one of the studs.After I get all of the post two feet deep into the ground, I am going to either nail or screw the 16 feet long presure treated boards to the post/studs that I bought at the Lowe's store.Loosening up that gravel with my steel bar and sledge hammer and my garden hose sure does help.But, it's still RUFF on me! I used to be a Tom Cat, now I am just a Pu$$y Cat.I am Hell when I am well, trouble is, I stay sick all the time.

You're correct about the style. However, these aren't Scientologists.
These are most likely people who are pissed at me because I have published some journal articles criticizing their favorite so-called "attachment" therapies. They are pissed at some of the others named because of their website that criticizes these therapies and exposes them for what they are. They have repeatedly tried, unsuccessfully to have taken down by misuse of DMCA, the kind of tactics we're all familiar with. Here is a blog by a survivor of this so-called "therapy" that explains the situation:
http://childtorture.wordpress.com/2009/01/25/attachment-therapist-cabal-led-by-ronald-fede rici-and-arthur-becker-weidman-attempts-to-shut-down-act-advocates-for-children-in-therapy
My guess is that since their attempts have failed and Project DoD is standing up to them, they're now throwing tantrums on usenet and elsewhere about this. Picking alt.religion.scientology was a rather stupid choice on their part, given how most people here feel about people trying to suppress free speech on the internet.
Maybe a little holding therapy will reduce their rage at us :)

Icom IC R-7000
Grundig Satellit 750

At 2258Z on Fri 5 June 2009, I was able to receive clear [with a 20-second semi-deep fade cycle] transmissions [presumably from Kentucky] since one guy kept speaking about someone having business in "the Bluegrass." This transmission came through on the Grundig with the internal antenna [the outside long wire seems almost useless]. The Icom with a discone antenna placed 32 feet in the air was deaf.

Any suggestions on how to repair this problem or does anyone know why that would be?

Yes CHU is now on 7,850 kHz ~ RHF
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/CHU_(radio_station)
3,330 kHz, 7,850 kHz and 14,670 kHz
WWV & WWVH = 2.5 MHz, 5 MHz, 10 MHz 15 MHz & 20 MHz

* WWV Colorado {Male Voice}
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/WWV_(radio_station)

* WWVH Hawaii {Female Voice}
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/WWVH

If you are in California; you may hear one or both depending on the Time & Frequency and Propogation. Which can give you an Idea whether the Shortwave Radio Signals are coming in better from the East Coast & Europe {WWV} and/or from the West and Asia {WWVH} .

I guess he was talking about my trailer.It has three old flat tires and the fourth old tire barely holds air.I don't plan on ever moving my old trailer again.I can move it from my back yard and along my side yard and across my front yard if I ever have to.Or I can move it across my back yard and along the back yard of that other (vacant) house next door to me.Those CLINICALLY INSANE! democraps and libs never think rationally.

Interesting, Burr. I will look over everything in the morning. I have a copper ground hammered about three to four feet in the ground [originally used to ground an electrical fence] and I have both radios grounded to it using 14 ga braided wire.

The discone is a Diamond D-130NJ with a CAB cxp1318fn-50 50' cable ... and now I see the problem. I though I was purchasing a discone that can listen from 25 through 1300 MHz, and the paperwork here says, "50 - 1300 Mhz." I guess I need to purchase a different antenna.

Steve, why don't you Google the words "partial" and "disability" and then we'll converse on who is the biggest imbecile.

I think you've made it abundantly clear to all of us the true nature of your disability.

Well, we all better concede to the wisdom and knowledge illustrated in your elegant response. What's your native tongue?

Quite possibly the stupidest comment I've ever read on a newsgroup, and I've been active on USEnet since it began.

My dad went into Omaha Beach on DDAY+1. Once you've visited those bleak cliffs

"Here's a thought-experiment for pro-abortionists. It's the 1850s and there is a raging debate all over the country regarding the morality of slavery, slavers defending it, abolitionists condemning it as an ultimate evil.

"Someplace in the South there is a flamboyant slave owner who vehemently supports his right to own fellow human beings as his personal property and is infamous for treating them as sub-human. An abolitionist is so angry at this slaver's evil that he kills him, blows him away with a 12 gauge - both barrels.

"Pro-slavers everywhere and dozens of newspapers in the South condemn the killing as a "vigilante outrage." Some even declare the murdered slaver as a "saint" who defended the freedom of "real people" to own things that aren't fully human.

"As their rage builds, the pro-slavers accuse all those abolitionists who protested against and condemned the murdered slaver as accomplices of the murderer.

"The question to ask a pro-abortionist is: would you side with the pro-slavers or not?

I'm not so sure about AJ being on XM. At least it is not on the XM website. They run the Art Bells reruns (Somewhere in Time) in that slot, then go into Coast to Coast.

So, dufus, please inform us of this 'disability' that you 'turned down'.

Just what is the nature of your 'disability'?

Is Louisville Technical Institute aware of your 'disability'?

If not, do you think that they should be made aware of your 'disability'?

hope you all are doing well: even those i used to butt heads with LOL.
i wrote up the conversion of Sony's $15 SRF-59 to shortwave. this unique radio uses low-IF and Hartley image rejection. it will run ~950 hours on an alkaline "D" type battery. the sound is quite good: it is now a daily listener. a new PDF with homebrew antenna may follow. read more at http://www.dxer.ca/ or...

I got hamlib working with 'grig' this morning, but I need more bells and whistles as 'grig' is pretty basic.

The following command line gets the graphics going:

grig -m 339 -r /dev/ttyS0 -s 4800 -d 3

If I leave off the -d 3 I don't get the irritating status feedback in the shell.

Fldigi seems to freeze on this machine. I'm going to try Ham Radio Deluxe next.

I'm now wondering if moving all the real Windows dll files into the mock
C drive in my home directory would help.

I hate using non pure applications, but sometimes the choices are limited.

516. OT What TV Shows Do You Watch?

I always wanted to start this thread in here. What are your favorite television shows? Are there shows you watch that you just can't wait till they come on the following week? Too make sure you don't miss them, do you set your DVR maybe?

I'll start.

My favorite show for the last three years is "Deadliest Catch." If I didn't have a bum back at times I would try anything to get on one of those boats, preferably either The Time Bandit or the Cornelia Marie just once to say I did it. I had no idea the danger catching those crab presented for the skipper and crew. From the time they off load those crabs within hours they are sitting on someones plate. Incredible IMO.

The king crab season is now over and what they are showing now was taped in January, the Ophelia Crab season which is even more dangerous than the king crab season. Never had crab, almost makes me want to try it just because I now know everything those guys go through.

My second favorite show, which surprised me, is Diners-Drive Inns and Dives on the food channel. That is the only show I watch that I notice I am smiling through the entire show.

Third would be Ice Road Truckers followed closely by the MSBC shows called "Lockup"....self explanatory. Last but not least, anything to do with the UFC, I love that stuff, watch every PPV I can.

I hope others share their favorites, this could actually be a good thread for a change instead of Mike messing it up. Dave/Charlie/SC/BA (I don't think you see what we see) Steve/Telamon/RHF/BDK and others please feel free.:-)

Space Weather News for June 5, 2009
http://spaceweather.com

DAYTIME METEORS: The annual Arietid meteor shower peaks on Sunday, June 7th. The Arietids are unusual because they are daytime meteors; they stream out of a point in the sky not far from the sun. The best time to look is just before dawn on Sunday morning when it may be possible to spot a small number of Arietids skimming the top of Earth's atmosphere. Such "Earthgrazing" meteors tend to be long, colorful, and very pretty. After daybreak, when the meteors are no longer visible to the human eye, you can listen to radar echoes from the Arietids by tuning in to our online meteor radar: http://spaceweatherradio.com .

"The Arietids are the strongest daylight shower of the year," notes Bob Lunsford of the American Meteor Society. "If you could see them through the sun's glare, you would count as many as 60 per hour. Also, don't forget that the daytime Zeta Perseids peak only two days later and are considered the second strongest daylight shower. In all my years of viewing I have never seen a Zeta Perseid, but I have seen a few Arietids. They have all been Earthgrazers and very impressive meteors."

Yeah, I have always thought it was super cool, to know that someone - somewhere had the same or lesser equipment as myself and others in here, and were doing something of importance for their country. Gotta love shortwave radio IMO.

Speaking of spies. An absolute GREAT spy movie IMO I picked up last week is called "The Good Shepherd." Matt Damon/Angelina Jolie/Robert De Niro/Alec Baldwin/ William Hurt/ Timothy Hutton and John Turturro.
Enough said IMO, with an all star cast like that, there is no way it can be just good. FWIW the New York Post called it "The Godfather of CIA Movies" and that it "sets a new standard for cloak and dagger." I very rarely agree with the early writeups of movies, but this movie is flat out killer with an ending that makes you just shake your head and smile. Turn off the lights for two hours and fourty eight minutes and make sure your shortwave radio is on just for the ambience and escape.:-)

I don't doubt their courage. I condemn the world for letting things get things better. What the hell were these people thinking?

For a "Receive Only" Antenna the elevated Discone Antenna with a Coax Cable feed-in-line should work OK with the Icom R-7000 VHF/UHF Receiver.

http://wiki.radioreference.com/index.php/IC-R7000
http://www.universal-radio.com/CATALOG/scanners/r7000.html

The Diamond D-130J Discone Antenna
"Receives" from 25 MHz to 1300 MHz
* The 50 MHz note is about Transmitting.
http://www.universal-radio.com/CATALOG/scanants/2405.html

Getting the Discone Antenna 5~10 Feet above the Roof-Line of the House on a Grounded Metal Mast may help to improve your overall Radio Reception.

FWIW - # 14 AWG Wire is not a very good Electrical Ground path and poor RF Grounding.

I'm using Puppy Linux 4.20

There's a special fldigi download just for Puppy and it works flawlessly right out of the box. I am running 2 autospotters at the moment.

Burn a Live CD of Puppy, boot your computer with it, and use the Universal Installer to take it from there.

http://puppylinux.org/main/index.php?file=Download%20Latest%20Release.htm

Once you have Puppy running, go here and click on the 3.11 "Pet". Your Puppy Pet Installer will automatically install fldigi and Ham Lib.

http://www.w1hkj.com/Downloads.html

The Chicago guy is right, you should call ICOM. There are some upgrades required in some radios. I paid $400 last year to get mine fully rebuilt to better than new. Caveat emptor.

I agree Burr, though we are talking about "slightly" different antennas. One of my three outside antennas is the Alpha Delta DX Sloper antenna.

Four to five years ago he (ham buddy) hooked up, I guess it was his scope, and a few other gadgets to check my six antennas....and he said "that sloper is bad ass Gregg, if you ever want to get rid of it, let me know." As a ham, with his extra (I think I said that right)....I never doubted my antennas after that. I remember I cut X amount of lengths of wire and fanned it out so too speak underneath the length of antenna with the measurements and seperation that he said. I had no idea it had to be so precise,all of you that know what I'm talking about are probably laughing at me now. ;-)

But it really is a great antenna, even all bands except one IMO - though he said "it wasn't that bad", when you get wayyy up there it isn't as good IMO and according to his gadgets. But if I do listen up there (which is rarely) I just flip the switch and listen off another antenna (either the Antron or my Yagi). I really didn't like spending the $$$$ for it (the sloper), but looking back on it now, it was handing over the money at the counter for superb results for eleven years now and absolutely no headaches, other than three times I changed the coax which is about right. It is protected (coax) and the weather hardly gets to it and though we get the occasional ice storms and last year for the first time in Ohio history -- the hurricane winds, both the antenna and mast has stayed true. I would recommend it to anyone in this group.

I was specifically speaking of "shows" aka entertainment, but I know what you're saying. ;-) Every now and then I have to escape the programming so too speak. I don't know if you can classify the "Deadliest Catch"...."Diners/Drive Inns and Dives/....Ice Road Truckers" etc. as reality shows...though one may. In all honesty, just about anything I suppose could be classified as a reality show....except daily nightly programming.

But I don't watch what I call reality programming aka American Idol - Survivor - Big Brother. etc. not that they aren't good shows, I am sure they are but it's just not my bag. The closest thing I watch to the definition of "reality shows" I suppose is TUF on Spike TV. If you're not familiar with it, it stands for "The Ultimate Fighter"....a house full of guys fighting for a six figure contract at the end. I enjoy it because I trained in the disciplines "when it wasn't cool" and no one knew what it meant back in the day. It's come a long way.

No doubt, it's going to be interesting when they finally switch. Come on Cuhulin, what do you and doggy watch other than cartoons and the AMC channel? ;-D

Right now I have been watching on the AMC channel "A Big Hand for the Little Lady." Made in 1966 - Homesteaders (Henry Fonda, Joanne Woodward) play poker at a Texas Hotel. Pretty good movie IMO.

Perhaps you should pray for the Iraqi children getting it up the ass

Oh crap, I forgot my other two favorites, I can't believe I forgot on the Discovery channel, yeah baby! That is now all of my favorites, other than the Cincinnati Reds of course.

I notice now they have the "Rambos' and "Rocky" movies, though I love those movies, IMO they aren't just yet classics. I saw a movie on the AMC channel two- maybe three weeks ago for the first time and it was a killer movie IMO. "Mystic River" - with Sean Penn/Kevin Bacon and Tim Robbins. I just couldn't turn my head through the whole movie, I can see why they called that movie a classic because IMO it was.

Everything about it was good, the scenery, I guess it was centered in Boston or somewhere around that area. I definitely want to get that one on DVD, it's a keeper.

Incitement to violence is one area where we do not free speech. Eugene V. Debs served several years in prison in the early 1900's for advocating that young men drafted into WW1 not show up for induction. The myth that the Fist Amendment covers all speech is prevalent among those who have never actually studied Constitutional Law. Other areas not covered by the 1st A include libel, slander, release of national secuirty info and conspiracy to committ a crime. You can suffer civil and criminal penalties for speech in those areas.

You should actually study the Constitution before so blanketly condemning how other people might interpret it.

Totally different numbers showing up here, including nothing but single stars for you, Suzy. Is anyone out there seeing the numbers that Batavia boy is reporting?

Starry, starry night...

Look in the mirror and swear at yourself then as it was a response to your number of posts thread. I have to spell everything out for the news group retard.

I see you are still to stupid to use a real news reader and you still post from google.

The more reasonable, and true explanation is I just didn't see it. I don't read every one of your posts, Telemundoh. I'm sure that crushes you.

I like Phil and I think he is a smart guy but he writes terrible radio reviews on the web. I strongly disagree with most of his assessment at radiointel "Phil's Tabletop (radio) Guide. I'm pretty sure his review here is actually a collection of what other people have perviously put out on the web because I think he is capable of better observing and reporting than what is written here.

582. Re: Radio Discrepancy : Icom R-7000 VHF/UHF Receiver -and- Diamond D-130J Discone Antenna

Newsgroup: rec.radio.shortwave
Date: 2009-06-06 18:43:15 UTC
From: Slade Henson <derechim@earthlink.net> Message-ID: <q92dncBdqsRTJbfXnZ2dnUVZ_oidnZ2d@earthlink.com>
Source record: 180798

ORIGINAL MESSAGE:
I currently have two radios:
Icom IC R-7000
Grundig Satellit 750

At 2258Z on Fri 5 June 2009 at 27085 kHz [CB 11?], I was able to receive clear [with a 20-second semi-deep fade cycle] transmissions [presumably from Kentucky] since one guy kept speaking about someone having business in "the Bluegrass." This transmission came through on the Grundig with the internal antenna [the outside long wire seems almost useless]. The Icom with a discone antenna placed 32 feet in the air was deaf. Any suggestions on how to repair this problem or does anyone know why that would be? slade

RHF COMMENT:
For a "Receive Only" Antenna the elevated Discone Antenna with a Coax Cable feed-in-line should work OK with the Icom R-7000 VHF/UHF Receiver.
http://wiki.radioreference.com/index.php/IC-R7000
http://www.universal-radio.com/CATALOG/scanners/r7000.html

The Diamond D-130J Discone Antenna "Receives" from 25 MHz to 1300 MHz * The 50 MHz note is about Transmitting.
http://www.universal-radio.com/CATALOG/scanants/2405.html

Getting the Discone Antenna 5~10 Feet above the Roof-Line of the House on a Grounded Metal Mast may help to improve your overall Radio Reception.

FWIW - # 14 AWG Wire is not a very good Electrical Ground path and poor RF Grounding. Number # 10 AWG Copper Stranded Wire is generally consider to be the minimum Wire Size for a Radio Shack's Ground Wire.
http://www.chem.hawaii.edu/uham/radials.html http://www.hamuniverse.com/grounding.html http://www.geocities.com/siliconvalley/2775/gndsys.html

Ground Rods an 8-Foot Copper Clad Ground Rod is recommended as 'close' to your Radio Shack as possible with the 'shortest' Ground Wire practical.
http://www.cosjwt.com/index.php?a=16 http://www.eham.net/articles/6848

iane ~ RHF

SLADE CONTINUES:
I feel better that I purchased the right antenna, but that doesn't answer my receiver's deafness. I have an email to AESHam Orlando to see if they have any answers. Right now, the roof line is 13'10" high and the anchor point for the antenna is at 31'08". I can easily place a ground wire on the mast. The mast is 1-1/2" metal conduit. I will replace the 14 awg with 10 ga. Right now, the copper ground rod I have is about three or four feet from the radios [right outside the window], so the ground wire may be six feet at most.

Duh, while I'm not fan of miltaristic colonialism, I hardly think that we were responsible for Hitler. Hitler did break dozens of threaties that were negotiated during the 1930's. Hitler was firbombing London. Hitler had to be taken out. I don't condemn FDR for not seeking on-going negotiations with either Hitler or Hirohito.

Uh, so would alien invasion or an impending asteroid impact. I sure hope we don't have to wait for any of these things before we see a little global unity.

I'm beginning to doubt the entire system. My browser shows Steve's first post with 13 evals, with a total 3-star evaluation. I gave it five stars.

How can that be so out of relation to what Suzy/Batavia/Bushy (tri-polar) is reporting?

Would a Christian really lie? Nope, must be the system.

This is not a very good SW antenna. You need an antenna from this page from the same vendor.

<http://www.universal-radio.com/catalog/sw_ant.html>

Or get yourself an antenna book like the one in the following link and put something together yourself for less money.

That hurts. I've tried to show you more respect than many in here extend to you. Your knowledge of electronics and shortwave seems pretty valuable when you stick to the topic.

Your recent analysis of the 1st Amendment leaves me convinced that your political expressions are from your heart, not any keen intellect.

We do have different political beliefs, but I'll defend my actions in every post I've made. If you want to start threatening me through my employers, like Steve actually has, I really can't stop you.

Little secret: Thanks to Steve my employers are watching right now.

Have you heard any Australians today?

Before you open your big mouth you should take your own advice. There is a difference between criminal and civil law. This is not about a civil suit where one can be sued for just about anything.

I should sue you for posting stupid and in general lowering the IQ of the news group, which affects all that read it.

What Hal wrote on the web will have to be found as "Incitement to violence" by the court. Speaking before a crowd that then commits violent acts or property destruction is not the same thing as blogging on the web. The court will need to find a violent act that directly ties to Hal's page. I don't expect that to happen because as I have not heard of any claim to that effect.

I doubt Hal has blogged any nonpublic national security information.

Spock has informed me that blogging about a conspiracy and then committing one is at best incongruous. Try again Mikey.

Looks like, even more people don't like you in here......26 and 28 one and can you or someone tell me what or why does the village of Batavia get mentioned with me? Surely you geniuses don't think I live there,

I am starting to feel like this is getting personal, there IS NO ONE
AND let me repeat myself, no one that knows my real name on the internet nor my address Michael. I always have my butt covered when it comes to that because you never know when someone will turn on you that you converse with, either back channel or doing a radio or knife deal. You may use your real name, but you are a fool IMO. Nothing personal, it's just business. ;-) This group IMO, more than any other group I post in, mainly because of you, proves my point.:-D It actually makes me feel bad to "out" myself because there are a few people that I actually trust in here and have done me many favors when they didn't have to....but because they wanted to and I actually trust them, but that's about it when it comes to my name and where I live.

Which goes back to one of my initial observations: To receive disability one must apply for it. If you indeed applied for disability then why would you turn it down?

Methinks you are lying, and were never disabled to begin with and never turned down anything, as this has 'Fake PhD Syndrome' written all over it.

If you were indeed disabled, to what do you attribute your miraculous recovery to?

1. The Debs case was a criminal case.
2. Release of classified info is a criminal penalty.
3. Courts have even said you can be criminally prosecuted for screaming "fire" in a crowded theatre, particularly one that is not on fire.

> I should sue you for posting stupid and in general lowering the IQ of

1. Keep up, Telamon. Hal called for someone's murder. Read the news, dude.
2. Why wouldn't the court find a call to murder to be incitement?
3. This isn't just me. Law enforcement and prosecutors made the call.
I think they understand the law better than do you. Or I.

1. WRONG. The crime doesn't have to be committed or completed.
2. The legal standard is "with reckless disregard for public health and/or safety". I guess we'll see what the jury decides.

> I doubt Hal has blogged any nonpublic national security information.

of speech.

Telly, ask him what Captain Kirk's opinion is, OK? I can now see that the discussion of legal issues with someone who has no knowledge of how the Constitution has been interpreted is likely to devolve to insults quickly. It's falls under incitement, unless law enforcement has more info than what we're aware of.

Well, I'm tickled to see you report that. I've posted many times in this newsgroup that historical analysis will suggest that right-wing American industrialists, specifically including the ones you mention, had far more to do with Hitler's rise than did any left-wing socialist groups.

Why does that convey a responsibility for the violence of WW2 on OUR backs? Am I accountable for the actions of Henry Ford?

Please don't disrespect the courage of these brave souls on this day.

Actually, while I am better than I was four summers ago, the nature of my disability is obvious. Somethings are actually getting worse. My employers observe it every day.

I chose to keep working. I realized if I retired to a disability, I might someday become something like you, Steve.

You see, Steve, you've always been a role model (of a sorts) for me!

Relax, Dude. Chill out. No one is gunning for you. I was only making fun of the fact that you use multiple screen names virtually every single day. If that's part of the way you roll, cool, but I can still make fun of it. No one in here will try to hunt your personal info down and harrass you, your family or your employers.

No one, accept, your hero, Steve Lare, who has openly admitted that he has done so. Against me.

So relax, you're safe. Steve's on your side.

Want to come down and let me treat you to a steak dinner? I mean, you posted that you're in Louisville four days a week, right?

Please note blogging on the web is not the same thing as being physically present on the scene. Your quoted case is a stretch.

Wrong, he was arrested for what he posted on his blog not conspiracy.

Chill dude, it was a joke OK. I thought it was funny. My layman's knowledge does not equate to no knowledge OK Mikey.

Captain Kirk says set phasers to stun and not hurt Mikey if it can be avoided.

An arrest is not proof of wrongdoing. We will see what happens in court.

It is not logical to attribute to a small group of industrialists the failings of our country and politicians to head Hiller off earlier.

A discone really is a poor antenna on CB. Any CB antenna, anything, would be a huge improvement. I know several people with R7000's, and the low end on them seems to deafen up as they age. Usually, by 35MHZ or so, they are up to spec'ed sensitivity. I have an Icom discone in my attic, as a back up antenna for my 2 Meter rig, and it's deaf as a rock on any of my eceivers. The sloper I have up with coax that's going bad is better on CB freqs.

Exactly! You admit you called my employer trying to get me in trouble for something you dug up out of the archives. Never anything I said directly to you, right?

Right?

What part is hogwash?

Thanks for once again verifying that you did call my employers. Don't worry, though, I'm sure Bushy/Suzy/Mr. Bearcat will still worship you.

Ford was largely responsible for expanding the German industrial base which was instrumental in Hitler's war effort. Ford was looking for cheaper labor, but those plants were quickly converted to roll out tanks.

Lindbergh was a paid consultant to the Germans, helping them set up the Luftwaffe. He was enamored by their Spartan-like military discipline.

I challenge anyone to show how any left-wing groups had anything to do in supporting Hitler.

Now that I don't know. I don't know what Patricia Greenway has to do with any of this. These attacks started after they failed to get some critical of AT websites taken down, but why they would bring her up, I don't know. I've given up trying to understand their irrational thought processes.

The American industrialists were helping rebuild a Germany recovering from WW1. Not satisfied with that Hitler derailed that whole process of nation rebuilding into building an army in an expansionist move not unlike what happened to us with Saddam Hussein in Iraq. The Germans were able to prosecute the war as they saw fit because we as a nation did not stop them once Hitlers war plans were put in motion. We almost waited to long to win that war and many more American soldiers died because of that and europe paid a heavy price.

I just watched Defiance and I highly recommend it.

I liked Tom Baker in the role. I thought of Isadora Duncan every time I saw that scarf.

It's snowing in Calgary. We had hail this morning, slush in the afternoon and now big wet flakes of snow. Weird.

Maybe you need to stop projecting your inner state upon me. As long as you do this readers of this news group just learn more about who you are.

So far from your posts I know you are miserable and have nothing else to do but make thousands of garbage Usenet posts a month.

691. Dgital Radio (DRM) is useless

"But, on the downside, some of our panel experienced problems at night - and we saw these effects in our measurements as well. The problem will be familiar to many listeners to medium-wave: at night, changes in the atmosphere mean that signals from distant transmitters reach our shores more easily. On medium-wave, you might hear this as cross-talk: a foreign voice underneath what you're trying to listen to, or the occasional 'splat' of another transmission. The issue we came across with DRM is that this interference causes the radio to stop decoding the signal: sometimes only momentarily, sometimes for a while longer. So rather than listening through the interference, it's like all digital systems: you either get it (and so get it at a consistently high quality) or you don't get it at all. So while most of the panel continued to listen without experiencing any problems, some of them found they were only served during the day and had patchy coverage at night. And of course this problem became worse as the hours of daylight shrunk during the autumn; so by winter, some were beginning to experience poor reception in the late afternoon."

Baker was my favorite as well (and, until Christopher Eccleston, the most popular ever), with Peter Davidson (Trystan Farnan) a close second and Eccleston third. The new run of shows are very much technically better than the older series', but there's something that's just not quite right.

Ford was largely responsible for expanding the German industrial base which was instrumental in Hitler's war effort. Ford was looking for cheaper labor, but those plants were quickly converted to roll out tanks.

Lindbergh was a paid consultant to the Germans, helping them set up the Luftwaffe. He was enamored by their Spartan-like military discipline.

I challenge anyone to show how any left-wing groups had anything to do in supporting Hitler.

Well, there WAS that Stalin guy...

Uh, Stalin, regardless of his own atrocities, was fooled like everyone else signing treaties with Germany during the '30s. Hitler was at odds with Stalin during the entire last half of the '30s.

Right-wing industrialists propped up German military infrastructure. Now what did Stalin do for Hitler? Don't demean the 15 to 20 million Soviets that died fighting Hitler, either. A toll far, far higher than the US had to endure.

Agreed. If it weren't for the Russians, we may never have won that war.
Hitler was mad as a hatter, trying to fight a war on so many simultaneous fronts (along with turning on his allies in the middle of it all..)

Stalin created a non unified front against Hitler emboldening him.

I don't agree with that outlook. Hitler always crossed his fingers behind his back when signing any treaty and decided not to honor the nonaggression treaties he signed with the Russians starting a war on both fronts for the Germans once he thought he had the western front under control so don't thank the Russians thank Hitler for making his biggest mistake in the WW2.

Join who? It happened long ago, Telemundoh. Besides, I'm straight, and never really liked Frisco that much when I went up there for a race about 29 years ago. Better than Baker, CA, that's for sure.

I think it's way past time you learned to read with comprehension, Telemundoh. It would explain a lot of your posts though.

You can learn, I know you can.

He's not going on your shit list?

What does he have on you, Telemundoh?

Is there something hidden in the closet?

that's all.

You're the one who just popped up with "Disgusting Pervert", remember?
Kind of an over the top reaction, but then again, you're an over the top guy.

I'm just curious as to why you think he's a disgusting pervert? Seems like you really overreact to whatever he posted. You over react to almost everything, it seems.

740. DXing with the Drake

Using the SW8 tonight to DX with my eaves long wire, working well. I can compare it with the Sat 800. Looks like I better check the Sat 800 long wire tomorrow. I think it may have a small limb on it. Takes a little thinking to tune the Drake after using the 800 so much.

I have a double yo-yo hung in the eaves and it does not work as well as the Longwire-L-Sloping. I have some copper wire and I need to hang some flower pots up there so maybe I'll put it up with a east/west. Can't get a slope but I will work in some "L".

Doing the BBC & RCI great. I can move my tap over to the long wire but I think it has a high ground.

Guess I'll go to bed and worry about it tomorrow.

A TV is a matter of survival here in the tinder dry fire-prone SoCal foothills. It can get pretty hairy sometimes.

I certainly understand your thinking behind that. It seems I only watch four to five shows regularly, the rest I can leave it. But there are some, like the ones I noted, are extremely intriguing to me for some reason.

Ah, so you do get to see the local US programming, that's cool. Shows how behind the times I am, I just learned pretty recently that you can tell the type of programming from the type of dish one has.

I've seen a few that have this different type of cone on the dish, which, from what I've read is the "whole kitten caboodle" - programming from literally all over the world. I think it may be interesting for maybe three to four months just to see the programming from other countries, but it's somewhat expensive IMO just for tv.

Your #1 I have never even heard of - same goes for #2.
I do like the Ghost Whisperer mainly because I think Jennifer is really pretty, I watched it every Friday back when her husband died but then jumped into the body of Sam. I had no idea how they were going to keep that show going after that, but it was pretty cool how they did it, some of those episodes at the end had me tearing up. ;-)

Do she ever let "Sam" know that her husbands spirit jumped into him? Did he believe it? Did they ever get remarried BA? LOL....you're going to have to fill me in BA, I felt I missed so much of it - that I wouldn't be able to jump back in.;-)

Your#4 I saw a few episodes, I can see why you like that. And the show House, I have a friend that is an avid viewer so I watched it just to see what it's about. Definitely a very catchy show, and out of the maybe 10 episodes I watched, everyone of them was good.

So, you DO admit you called my employer.

Can you provide a link to the post where I told you directly that I

The MMA/UFC has been pulled from your area? That about freeking sucks IMO. Tonight on Versus is the Mike Brown/Uriah Fabre rematch. I'm really looking forward to seeing that fight, IMO I see Brown beating Uriah again. That Brown is just so strong for that division. Should be a great fight either way.:-)

Diners / Drive Inns ands Dives remains my favorite. I've been emailing Guy Fietti at the food newtwork to get him to visit one of the diners out here.

I see Brown winning by tap out in round three, at least that is what I am hoping. Though I wouldn't be upset if Fabre wins, it should be a great no matter what.

Yeah. The problem with your story is that our phone call was AFTER you called my employer. Remember, you posted that I was "crying" over what you had done. Remember, Steve? Do you want me to post our emails? AOL has saved them all in a nice little folder.

Age is starting to take it's toll on your memory, Steve.

I will explain this one more time for you, I know I said it before, but maybe you missed it.....which you didn't....because you responded to it.

I can't help that google does what they do with my monickers. It isn't that I am trying to "con anyone." I thought it was appropriate to have a related monicker for the three to four groups I post in. They ALL come back to the same email addy. I just do not understand why you continue to bring that up, it doesn't bother anyone else, but for some reason you just can't help but bring it up. It is your problem Michael, not mine. I won't explain it again.<rolling my eyes>

Most of American tv is so boring, and the old, old movies I like to watch on DirecTV, I have seen them a million times already.

I keep thinking someday I will buy a Lyngsat www.lyngsat.com or a Pansat (I don't know their website.Where you at Lee Richardson? in Evansville,Indiana) satellite rig so I can watch a lot of International/Worldwide tv programs, for free.

I wouldn't understand all of those languages, but I guess I would understand the gist of that stuff.

See, there you go again. It's like you have this persistent hard on for me and others in this group. YOU ARE THE ONE that keeps this group stirred up and you actually love it IMO. At your age, that is extremely sad, very sad....it's like it's mental or something. But then the post before this you are talking about paying for a steak dinner, what the heck gives with you? <shaking my head> It's so

Yes, and during that phone call you agreed with me that you had indeed claimed to have a PhD!

Remember, you made that claim with your now famous "I'ma college professor with a PhD" remark!

You were indeed crying, dufus. I told you to get a hanky, remember?

Be my guest, dufus.

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute. They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

Same here. I use mine to trap muskrat and beaver. Sometimes their fur Exactly. It can serve as a lock on the receiving end.

In many cases it also means information is no longer private. The data stream, at last on the 'net, tells you who's doing what and where. The digital fingerprints are everywhere, allowing easy tracking.

Why should electronic mail be any different than normal mail? Privacy should be a given in either case.

PGP encryption is viable, but only in a limited number of cases.

Bushy/Suzy,

You accuse me of trying to get too personal because that makes you feel threatened. But when I point out how the only one in this newsgroup to have tracked down someone's employer and actually call them is the very guy you seem to idolize.

And I'm the one stirring up trouble?

You are a strange little Cincinnatian. But my offer for a steak is still valid. Just let me know when you're going to be in Louisville. I think you've acted really silly on the newsgroup, but I reserve final judgement for a face-to-face meeting.

But, how would you feel if someone from this group had called your employer? I bet your perspective on how awesome Steve is might be a little different if he had called your employer.

Think about it. Remeber, he had admitted doing so.

Google Star Report: 27 one-star evals from here of your last post, Bushy. I know, you're seeing 250 five-star evals, right?

Are you saying that Google randomly assigns a screen name to you everytime you post? If not, why are you choosing to post in THIS newsgroup under multiple screennames that all go back to "gkotr@earthlink.net" with an IP address in the Cincinnati area?

I think it's getting easier to sniff out who's lying.

DRM was not invented. It is all old technology being misapplied to a medium that does not support it well so all during its "development" it was continually revised to take up more spectrum and power just to support the original claims that were made for it.

The original claims turned out to be all lies.

Here is a phrase that works for me "DRM and IBOC both suck."

Yes, digital means information can be controlled with keys. You will have to pay for the additional complexity of the receiver and rent a key for access. This can create a continuous revenue stream from you to the provider.

Checking out individual stats under Google Profile reveals some interesting data, Bushy:

dxAce posted 15221 messages to 159 groups over the past six weeks. He was evaluated 3203 times for a total 2-star average.

Bushcraftgregg posted 1567 messages in 55 newsgroups. You were evaluated 144 times for an average of 2 stars.

I've posted 3911 messages in 34 newsgroups. I was evaluated 227 times for a total 3-star average.

More than anything, this is a testament to the number of cross-posted messages, since I only post in RRS.

Just crunching some numbers,

I know I'm missing some good stuff. I watch TV programs at my brothers place sometimes such as the History channel and Nova but that caliber of program is maybe 5% of all programming. Speaking for myself it is just to easy to plop down on the couch and start watching something good for a while then spend more time watching what turns out to be crap so it is a negative use of time over all.

Tracked down? Didn't you tell us/me just who you worked for, dufus?

Just how much tracking needed to be done at that point?

You also told us/me that you got your PhD from Wayne State U.

To refresh your drug addled memory, when asked, Wayne State indicated that you'd received no PhD.

To refresh your drug addled memory, you then switched to stating that you'd done all the classes, but did not do your dissertation.

To refresh your drug addled memory, when asked, Wayne State indicated that you'd done no such thing.

What kind of drugs are you doing, dufus?

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute.
They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

As a matter of fact, I never "announced" my employer. You claimed you found it by punching my name and Louisville into a search engine. That is "tracking" it down, dxDufus. Go look your own post up in the archives.

You can't keep your stories straight to save your life.

Pity.

When you respond to cross-posted messages it counts as a separate message for each group it posts to. You can look the numbers up for yourself.

I clearly told you I had finished all my Doctorate coursework at Wayne St. You called both to see if I had a doctorate and to check on my GPA. The registrar I spoke with claimed you had fraudently reported yourself as a potential employer. That's actually a crime, you know.

I never, ever told you I had a PhD. Not on the phone, not in any email, and definitely not in the archives.

My employers wonder what's wrong with you. I never claimed to have a doctorate and one is not necessary for my current teaching job.

Seven years later and you just can't seem to figure that out. I don't expect you to come to your senses and stop your nonsense any time soon.

Say hello, they're reading right now, thanks to your constant defamation of the school where I work. They've assigned an intern to monitor this newsgroup. I'll let them make they're own judgements on whether they have grounds for corporate defamation over the internet.

Bushy, it's up to 52 evals with a one-star average for your last post.

Just keeping track for you,

I never spoke to a registrar. I only spoke with the records department, and I clearly explained who I was and exactly why I was calling. I never indicated that I was a potential employer.

Try again, dufus!

> I never, ever told you I had a PhD. Not on the phone, not in any

You told me on the phone that you had claimed to have a PhD. And, whether or not you ever told me personally that you had a PhD is immaterial, as you did indeed make a claim as to having a PhD. That is where your now famous "I'ma college professor with a PhD" line came from, dufus boy!

And speaking of those emails, dufus, I thought you were gonna post them?

> My employers wonder what's wrong with you.

Dumbass employers! They hired you... a PhDufus!

> I never claimed to have a

Yes, you did claim to have a PhD! Whether or not you claimed to have one when applying for a job is immaterial! Perhaps you knew that you could not BS your peers, but you figured you could slide it by us, the general public.

Didn't work, dufus!

Telling the truth is not "actionable", dufus boy!

IIRC - the former "Radio Pyongyang" has been identifying itself as "Voice of Korea" since about 2002; and broadcasts in many Languages http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Voice_of_Korea

The domestic and regional Topical Band Radio Broadcasts may still be using the KCBS "Radio Pyongyang" ID with broadcasts mostly in Korean.

Yesterday, I saw on local Jackson tv news, a big fire at an apartment complex in Byram, Byram is a suburb city, South side of Jackson.About two days before that fire, there was another big fire at an apartment complex in Jackson.I saw the fire and smoke of both big fires (they were really really blazing too, lots of smoke and fire) on local Jackson tv news.

Your #1 I have never even heard of - same goes for #2.

Those are popular British series. Doctor Who goes way back, and has a very large following. IIRC, it's been a BBC staple since something like 1964.

I do like the Ghost Whisperer mainly because I think Jennifer is really pretty, I watched it every Friday back when her husband died but then jumped into the body of Sam. I had no idea how they were going to keep that show going after that, but it was pretty cool how they did it, some of those episodes at the end had me tearing up. ;-)

Do she ever let "Sam" know that her husbands spirit jumped into him? Did he believe it? Did they ever get remarried BA? LOL....you're going to have to fill me in BA, I felt I missed so much of it - that I wouldn't be able to jump back in.;-)

I can't tell you. AFN is only now running the season where Sam enters the picture. He's only been on for three episodes so far, and just "found" the ring he was going to give to his girlfriend/fiancee. Next episode is tonight (unless they have dropped it again.. they have such strange scheduling, but I guess that's what happens when you try to run some of everything. Maybe they could drop one of the reruns of American Idol...)

Not that it's any of your business, but no I don't. The University system I work for doesn't extend tenure, requiring, instead, that each instructor prove annually what they are doing to maintain their professional development. It's part of our annual review, our salary increase is somewhat pegged to what we're doing to maintain our credentials. So no one receives "tenure" where I work.

Any other invasion of my privacy you seek?

Your post in the archive claims the woman on the phone laughed when you checked on my claim to have a 4.0 GPA. It's in the archives.

Were you lying then or now?

The new privacy laws are very tight. We've been told that we can't even admit that a student is enrolled, much less give out any info on academic completion. Unless a student signs a release form for 3rd

Casey Jones Museum in Water Valley,Mississippi.There is an old Drugstore in Water Valley, with an antique soda fountain.That big antique mirror looks just like it came out of an old Western Saloon, it is gorgeous!
There is a Casey Jones Museum in Tennessee too.

The way it's done, dxDufus, is when you need to verify your degree you contact the records office, sending them a written authorization to release the transcripts directly to a specific employer. The records office sends it, with official seal, to the employer. The student never touches the transcript and no, employers do not call for verification over the phone. Accrediting bodies require the employing schools to keep ceritified transcripts on file. Makes me wonder just what you said to that office worker in the Registars office. The name of the office were academic records are kept on file is the "Registrars Office". They remembered speaking to you.

I can see you've never had you transcripts sent anywhere. Just how long has it been since you worked, Steve?

Your ignorance is becoming pretty funny.

1. Now you admit talking to an intern from my school.
2. Privacy laws cover students not faculty employees.
3. Obtaining info about me from the place where I went to school is "Today, the Federal Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit is hearing oral arguments in a lawsuit brought by the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) against the Federal Communications Commission (FCC)... The NAB has filed suit in a spiteful effort to make sure that LPFMs lose their channels... A current bill, the Local Community Radio Act, was recently introduced in the House... This bill has widespread bi-partisan support and is widely believed to be ripe for passage in the coming months... The NAB's arguments against low power radio lack any legal merit in the first place, and will be even more irrelevant once the Local Community Radio Act is passed. At this point, we can only surmise that the NAB is just trying to create further confusion and hassle for LPFMs."

http://prometheusradio.org/content/view/755/1/

"Court upholds LPFM status"

"The U.S. Court of Appeals has handed the NAB a defeat as it upholds a December 2007 FCC decision to block full-power radio stations from knocking about 40 LPFMs off the air. The Media Access Project calls it a 'critical win for the future of LPFM.' The NAB is weighing its options."

http://www.insideradio.com/Article.asp?id=1357923&spid=32060

I would assume this just put a real kink in the corrupt NAB's/ iBiquity's plans... get the fucking lawyers - LOL!

Are you saying his thesis went up in smoke?

And does Cheech and Chong know about this?

Well, according to what I was told by Wayne State, he did not complete the course work (if he ever indeed did any course work towards a PhD) needed for a PhD.

My advisor was incapacitated by a stroke. If I had returned to school,
I could have easily obtained one (by putting together another panel), but the lack of the doctorate never kept me from landing positions. In my current job, my other degrees were more than enough to land the position. And being a very successful debate coach made getting offers for jobs easy. With a family, I could never afford to take the time off to complete the docotrate, though I was real close.

Yes, I've published several papers and presented many others at various communication association conferences. Maybe Steve will try and dig those up for everyone. Mainly dealing with argumentation theory and debate practice. If you go to the page Steve posted, you'll see I'm the Chair of my Department.

I want a 'docotrate' too! Since nobody can check, guess I'll just fake it!

The last two classes were completed at Southern Illinois-Carbondale.
Maybe you should call them, too, Steve?

Notice, how you're now admitting that you got more info than you said you did earlier in this very thread? That drunk, Steve?

Have to ask Wayne State if your transcripts were sent to Southern Illinois-Carbondale, they should have a record of that.

Burr,

Do you get better reception from the SW8 than from the Sat800? I've got the Grundi and been giving some consideration to acquiring the Drake. Is it up step uf from the 800?

Earth’s Seven Layers

Quranic and Prophetic Miracle

Author: Abdul Daem Al-Kaheel
Translation: Nassim JamalEddin Dhaher
Revised by : Magdy Abd Al-Shafy

I hope you don’t mind receiving my letter. It is short but full of information

When scientists started to probe the valleys of Earth and in order to know its structure and constituents, they found that tales and myths that dominated in the earlier centuries have no scientific basis. After scientists discovered that the earth is egg-shaped , they suggested that the core of this ball has a nucleus, and its *l is a very thin crust when compared to the Earth’s size, and between these two layers, there is a third, known as the mantle . this was the knowledge of the early scientists.
Development of Scientific Facts
The Three Layer -Theory did not last for so long due to recent discoveries in Geology. Recent measurements and experiments showed that the material comprising the nucleus of the Earth is under very high pressure, three million times more than that on the surface of the Earth.
Under such pressure, matter transforms into solid state, this in turn makes Earth’s core very solid,This core is surrounded by a liquid layer of very high temperature. This means that there are two layers in Earth’s core and not one.Two layers; one solid in the center surrounded by another liquid layer.
Thereafter measuring devices advanced and presented to scientists a clear distinction among Earth’s inner layers. If we were to descend under the earth’s crust we would find another layer of very hot stones , which is the stone cover or wrap. After that come three other distinct layers of varying density, pressure and temperature.
Therefore scientists found themselves classifying the layers of Earth into seven layers, not more. The figure shows these layers with their dimensions (some are out of scale) according to what scientists have recently found using methods like earthquake measuring devices and the study of Earth’s magnetic field, among other techniques. These studies and discoveries are being taught to these scientists’ students in universities.

Figure showing Earth’s seven layers, notice that the crust is very thin followed by mantle of varying thickness, then came the core comprised of a liquid and finally a seventh solid nucleus.

Scientists have found that the atom is also comprised of seven layers or levels, and this proves the uniformity of creation, where Earth has seven layers and atoms have seven layers as well. This creation therefore is ruled by only one creator.
Earth’s seven layers vary greatly in structure, density, temperature and material. Therefore one cannot consider that Earth has only one layer as people anciently thought. Here we find that the idea of the Earth having layers is fairly recent and wasn’t presented or brought forward at the time when the Quran was being revealed. Those discoveries are what the Twenty First century -scientists tell us, What then does the book of Allah tell us?
In the Company of the Noble Quran
The Holy Quran, God’s word , talks to us about the seven Heavens and also seven layers of Earth in the Quranic verses:
God says in the Holy Quran in this regard what means “Who has created the seven heavens one above another…” [Al-Mulk 3]
God says in the Holy Quran in this regard what means “It is Allah Who has created seven heavens and of the earth the like thereof (i.e. seven).” [Attalaq 12]
The first verse has specified two traits for the heavens which are: their number which is seven, their organization, which is into layers , one on the of top of the other and this is according to the Quranic interpretation books and Arabic language dictionaries. As for the second verse, it confirms that Earth is similar to the Heavens from the part of the verse that says “…and of the earth the like thereof”, where since the Heavens are layers, then Earth is comprised of layers as well, and since the Heavens are seven, therefore Earth’s layers are seven as well.
Here we need to pause and elaborate on Allah’s choice of words in the word: “Tibaqa” – which means layers one on top of another, and this is what scientists have recently discovered that Earth is comprised of layers, this in turn leads us to conclude that Al-Qur`an defined Earth’s shape, of layers, and it (Al-Quran) has also specified the number of these layers, seven. Henceforth Al-Qur`an chose a very specific word to describe Earth’s composition, so Al-Qur`an preceded the Twenty First Century scientists in mentioning Earths facts fourteen centuries ago. Isn’t this an overwhelming ?Quranic miracle

If we contemplate 0n the Noble Prophet’s (peace and blessings be upon him) Hadeeth (sayings), we find one Hadeeth that confirms this fact of Earth’s seven overlapping layers. Prophet Mohammad (peace and blessings be upon him) says: “whomever oppressed someone a hand span’s distance from the Earth, gets surrounded by seven overlapping layers”[Bukhari 2321], the Hadeeth is telling us that Allah will punish those who oppress in Earth by being encircled and surrounded by seven Earthly layers. This definition for the word “Tawaqa” that was used in the Hadeeth is as found in Arabic Language Dictionaries.
The question here is: Isn’t this a great prophetic miracle? doesn’t this Hadeeth specify the number of Earth’s layers which are seven, and also mentions their nature of being overlapped or surrounding each other?From the word encircled used in the Hadeeth, we can deduce circular shapes and in three dimensions we can deduce spherical shapes.

Henceforth The Noble Qur'an and Prophetic Sunnah (traditions of the Prophet) preceded modern science to this scientific fact. In addition Al-Qur'an gave us the precise naming for the structure of Earth using the word "Tibaqa" or layers, and it has given us the accurate number for these layers which is seven, while scientists spent long years and changed their theories several times to come up with scientific theories previously mentioned in The Quran and Sunnah. Glory be to Allah the Greatest who said in his exalted book: "And on the earth are signs for those who have Faith with certainty, And also in your ownselves. Will you not then see?" [Athariyat, 20,21]

That's a bit of bad luck about your advisor. Hopefully, he or she eventually recovered from the stroke.

I went to the link earlier and it does list you as chairperson.

If any of those papers you wrote are published on line somewhere I'd be interested in reading them.

"Mike"

Do you get better reception from the SW8 than from the Sat800? I've got the Grundi and been giving some consideration to acquiring the Drake. Is it up step uf from the 800?

Mike

Mike, I like the 800 better. It's much easier (sic) to use then the drake.

I think reception all depends on the antenna. You have to go a long way to beat a good long wire, add a slope and a little "L" and "I Think" it can't be beat.

I use both the SW8 and 800 when I'm DXing sometimes and they are about the same maybe a little better with the 800 but things change so fast.

If you can afford a Drake then get it but put your money and time in an Antenna, ground and battery power if you can. with good antenna, ground and nice clean(flat) battery power any/most radios sound good. I have a YB400 that's great when setup right.

This NASA / jpl web site says the earth is currently defined by 4 layers instead of 3 with the core split into two layers.

1. Crust
2. Mantle
3. Outer core
4. Inner core.

There are more then 7 electron levels. Many more not even considering sub shells. These electron shells follow a simple ordering only when an atom of an element is isolated and not interacting with any other atoms.
You can take any isolated atom in its ground state and then combine it with other atoms into a molecule and that electron orbital placement arrangement then changes. The electron shell arrangements don't look like simple layers in any event. Take a look at orbitals table on this page.

I stand corrected, good to know you know the correct spelling of his name.;-) I saw his other show today for the first time...."Guy's Big Bite." But I just can't handle watching cooking shows. I like Triple D because of the areas they go to and getting to see the different people. I always enjoyed diner food since I was a kid, we are blessed with many great diners in the Cincinnati area.

Telamon - I know what you're saying. There's nothing wrong with watching "some" television but I don't let it dictate what I do. My reading time is the most important time for me. That is when everything, including the radios go off, I would do without tv if it came down between the two....and it's not even close.

howdy Bushcraftgregg!

yeah it's me... still active in radio... just not in posting LOL.

thanks Telamon!

if it is any consolation, 4 years later... of the 8 main radios... only 2 remain! and both of those (R75 and R30) underwent revision. SDR seems like the big thing now.

FWIW that shortwave modded SRF-59 has a nice low-IF filter sound.
ironically i listen to it and single-triode radios much more than any tabletop :D.

I know the Red's announcers are always happy to know they're going out to San Diego, they were the ones who mentioned how beautiful a place it is. I take it you don't like it there? Try Cincinnati from late Dec. to late Feb. ;-)

Thanks for checking into RRS, Michael.

I hope you find your time here watching our resident dufus constructive, and who knows, perhaps you might even pick yourself up a radio and begin enjoying the shortwave hobby.

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute. They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

That CLINICALLY INSANE! democrap dude across the street was wipeing off his car, I told him I am ready to start bolting the boards on my fence.He said,,, That fence ain't going to stay there! I told him,, It will unless somebody knocks it down, it will be there long after I am dead and gone.That democrap CLINICALLY INSANE! B HO ButtKisser said it again,,, That fence ain't going to stay there!
I tried to tell him there isn't any such word as ain't.He just will not listen to me.

This group has previously discussed scams that George Fetter has perpetrated on radio folks from his various websites.

George Fetter's Yahoo ID is Georgef2.

When you click on Georgef2 to go to his Yahoo Profile, you get to the profile at http://profiles.yahoo.com/georgef2, but guess what, the profile shows he is a 20-year old female named MissStarr3. The site even shows a picture of the supposed MissStarr3.

Here is the rest of the Profile:

About Me RELATIONSHIPS Relationship Status: Single Looking For: Friends

Interests: I like good friends
Favorite Music: 50 cent
Favorite Movies: josh harnett movies

This fellow has already served time for fraudulent activities involving sales on Websites. He is still serving 3 years probation for "Organized Fraud Less Than $20,000"; that probation is to end Jan 22, 2010.
He has used aliases such as Billy8156@aol.com, pilotjoeturner@yahoo.com, and others. Now it looks like he is using MissStarr3.
Be forewarned if you get contacted by a MissStarr3.
Fetter has used many aliases in the past to conduct his business.
I wonder if his Probation Officer knows about this alias Fetter is using.

Since they took TV away from us Americans our TV viewing consists of very occasional favorites from an ample VHS and DVD library that we've thankfully put together. Quite honestly, none of us miss anything on TV. Maybe the boneheads in that industry should have spoke up when the bureaucrats came up with such a moronic idea as converting the whole country to an unnecessary and digital system that is technically full of flaws (and friends who have it say it is inferior...in fact one just sold his digital converters at his garage sale and decided to quit TV cold turkey). These morons and their advertisers cut off their noses to spite their faces by creating yet one more reason to send viewers elsewhere. We've also discovered a whole lot of new aspects of a social life and personal interests and hobbies that were being robbed when TV was analog...so life without TV has made our lives a lot better. Our favorite program? The raster. We do more enjoyable things now.

When the Big digital tv switch is made later on this month, (June 12, I think) more than a few million people's tv screens are going blank.According to an article at www.tvpredictions.com

I use two two 27'' CRT tv sets, one of them is my RCA tv set I bought on October 15,1999 for WebTV and sitting next to that tv set is my Sony Wega Trinitron 27'' flat screen tv set I use for watching tv.I bought that tv set in December 2004 at one of the Cowboy Maloney Electric City stores around here.My Sony tv set is both analog and digital tv capable.But since it isn't a true HD tv set, the tv programs still look like mostly analog to me and that is the way I like it too.Screw that real/true HD tv, it SUCKS!

Steve,

I'm not worried. Any sane person reading this newsgroup should be able to easily figure you out and see what you're all about. If they can stomach reading all your juvenile insults.

But, Gregg will say I'm the one keeping trouble going. You can say anything you want, but I'm the one keeping trouble going.

Wow, Steve. 101 one-star evaluations pretty quickly. Could be a sign

The GOP and Rush are correct in blaming BO. CNN just reported that a lard ass with some bad body order got too close to a vat of hot fat and the whole fucking thing blew up!

Hey Burr,

Hi. Thanks for your reply. I think I'll stick with my 800 and forego acquiring the SW8. How's life treating you?

Mike

Fine, thank you very much.

Roy,
Roy all those reports are fine but the opinion of someone who uses both radios goes a long ways what you are thinking of spending your money.

I'm sure Drakes are fine or they would be out of bussiness but so are Grundigs and I prefer Grundigs and I have both.

No. It's a sign you are doing over 95% of it (ratings). I know what you are you. You switch in between screen names just to do it. You may think you fool the majority, and that may be true, but you don't fool me.

Now you are the dufus. I only have one screenname. You are the one that has admitted to multiple screennames.

Even if I had multiple screennames (which I don't), since I access via Google (like you do) it all comes back to one email address, like you explained that yours does. Can you see how you've contradicted yourself? Why don't you see if you can put in multiple evals? Oops, you've already tried, right? And if you story is true, why don't I have more positive evals?

I don't have the time to put in humdreds of evals. I work and this is finals week.

And we've pretty much seen that Christianity doesn't keep you from lying.

Go away, Gregg. Everyone else is tired of Steve's routine. Grow up.

What is it that doesn't keep you from lying, PhDufus? Is it the fact that you're a Liberal/Democrat/Marxist academic who's hit the drugs just a little too hard in the past and couldn't ever hope to find a job outside the halls of academe?

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute. They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

I know what he is doing Steve, and he knew what I meant. I didn't mean screen names in the sense like what I have, that all goes back to one name (email). I mean, and he knows...lol...he has "seperate" accounts period. It's funny that there are only a few in here that access their newsgroups through google itself, him and I being two of them.

Anytime I say anything remotely having to do with him, all the sudden I get one starred, like I really care. But you notice, he is always bringing up the rating system to you Steve...lol...trying to make you and people that are actually stupid enough to believe him think everyone else is giving you one star ratings.

I know that is simply not the truth. Why would someone give you or me or anyone for that matter, a one star rating for posting something in here about an update to a shortwave schedule? Or posting you heard a pirate? How should that be a negative rating? I will tell you how, it's Bryant and his sick freeking sidekick identities doing it.

Just remember Michael. Everytime you soooo politely ask someone "how they are doing" or soooo politely "what are they listening to"....just know I truly know your other side and you don't fool me one iota. Must suck to have those two sides fighting each other every minute huh? Put on your good side to con your kids at school and log on and let the "real" Michael show through. I know your type and I have chunks of people like you in my feces that I pass everyday when I sit on the toilet.

Well, you just know it, right? Did God whisper it to you? Maybe you think I'm putting in multiple evals, because you want to rationalize your own behavior. You can check me, dude. And this guy, as you can read, was trying to be as nice as he could.
Actually to the point of lying because just about every post of yours in the group (even back then) was either attacking or insulting someone and you had him intimidated to the point the guy says your posts were "on topic and helpfull" in fear you were going to start on him. LOL

Bwahahahah.<ahem> Michael, I have been reading your archived posts since 01 today and I just stumbled on this and after reading your bullcrap to me about something that I can't even control (google not controlling my seperate monickers for seperate groups) and then to see you saying EXACTLY what you were trying to do (and do on PURPOSE) made me about bust up laughing. Can you say "Hypocrite?" And you can still switch over to that name just so you dropped a whole bunch of one star ratings on certain people and then switch back over, huh? Sure, you can. ;-)

LITERALLY over 95% of your archived posts up to this was nothing but personal attacks on people, one after the other after the other etc. etc. Even read some people "trying" to be nice to you, almost begging you to stop. People asking and some begging and some down right pissed telling you to leave the group because all you did was start trouble or if someone didn't think your way, you would be unrelenting in your attacks towards them.

You, even back then, would make up cute nicknames for people you didn't like and always remind them that at one time these specific people said they were christians in a post etc. etc. the exact same thing you do here all these years later. Attack someones spelling or grammar. Mentioning to a poster or posters something they said of a personal nature about their health or even a DEATH IN THEIR FAMILY or suicide years ago and then bring it up to them years later.<shaking my head> Man, you're sick and IMO, you are pathological.

Post after post, week after week, year after year.
Unbelievable.<rolling my eyes>

I'll stop now. I wasted fourty minutes of my life I can't ever get back. Like I said before, it must REALLY suck to be you and remember....you started this crap.

False.

AT&T is closing down ALL of its Usenet servers, period. See

P.S., AT&T spammed so many non-att servers with this message that bleachbot has gone into action to cancel them.

Bushcraftgregg (and numerous other screennames),

Dude, the Dave Ant account was one I borrowed over eight years ago, when my computer was down. I have only posted unfer one screename more most of the last decade. Found any in the last seven to eight years?

Sorry to make you waste your valuable time combing the archives. I told you the truth. I only have one posting account.

But I can understand the problems liars (like you) have in trusting other people. It's called "projection."

Gregg,

Help me by letting us all know all the screen names you operate under.
I've clearly ID'd the following ones:

Bcblazysusan
Bushcraftgregg
Coldsteelgregg

I suspect there are others. Will you fess up and let us know which ones you're using, so that I can block your nonsense? Your constant

I promise you that MWBRYANT is all I've used since 2002. I know you've

No, thanks to my memory being jogged, and looking at the post I made at the time, you had actually told me that you'd been FIRED by Louisville Technical Institute.

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute. They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

Yep, they just keep pushing it back. Has anyone heard any rumors regarding what the delaying reasons are?

The entire Google experience is evil. They track your internet movement with web page tools called Google-Analytics. My Firefox ADBLOCK filter has intercepted over eight hundred hits over just a few days.

Google tracks your map look ups too and connects them to your IP address.

My cell phone has a non satellite GPS system in it. Google maps keep a track of MY location when I use the thing.

I don't use Google for anything anymore. It's evil and has been since they turned over the names of all the Chinese dissenters to the commies a few years ago.

Well, I remember you saying that you were going to knock this stuff

You were actually pretty friendly on the phone. I guess a little alcohol and a keyboard encourages the real Steve Lare to materialize.

Yep, and Steve Lare NEVER belittles people, corrects their spelling, or mocks people reporting a health issue. Don't you find it just a little interesting how you can block out what your friend does EVERY SINGLE DAY?

Yep, I find your inconsistencies and hypocrisy to be highly illustrative of your lack of objectivity. What do you think of someone that belittles people's radio choices, their logging format, or even their nationality? What do you think of someone who has a record of doing that DAILY for years? Pretty outlandish, right? We should do everything to get a loser, like that, out of our hair, right?

I'm actually kinda interested in the AOR 7070. Waiting to see what it looks like as I never cared for that funny looking panel on the 7030.

I must admit, I was hesitant, as well. But it proved itself as a performance radio within minutes of coming out of the box. You get used to the panel real quick. The O/S becomes second nature after a few operations. And you kind of forget it's not a traditiona design when you start DXing things the ICOM's can't hear.

I use my 7030 as much as the Drake.

Burr,

The truth:

1. I don't enjoy seeing my name trotted out by the likes of Bushy
2. You launched on me first, dude. Starting throwing innuendos around because we were on different sides of the Presidential election.
3. Your real trouble during that time was not me, but Telamon. I had no idea what was taking place there, but both of you seemed very ballistic.
4. I don't think you are a bad guy (though normally I think Telamon is worth listening to). But when push comes to shove, you're another sycophant of your Miami cuz from Holland, MI. Don't even try to say you've been "neutral" in those fights.

I do enjoy your logs from the other side of the world and definitely encourage you to continue making them.

If you will stay civil with me, I'll be happy to reciprocate. Don't play coy or deliberately stupid like you sometimes have a tendency to.

Definitely not desiring to start any type of confrontation with you.

Mike

Doing another check on SLBC, Sri Lanka, 11905 at 0050, still holding up well, time pips at 0100, then into more Hindi music.

dxAce

USA

And, as always, don't let your children attend Louisville Technical Institute.
They've hired at least one dufus who once claimed to have a PhD, and who knows, there may be more dufi there.

I used the remote to control the AR7030 most of the time. I missed using this radio for almost a year before I managed to find a display replacement.

Only a moron like you is wrong most of the time. Most people that take the time to research or at least make a check on facts can be right almost all the time when posting but you are to lame to figure that out.

I noticed they moved the 1AM EDT broadcast of Alex Jones from 3215 to 5070. Too bad, 3215 comes in much better during that time here in SC.

I started this thread because I don't back down from anyone, be it a face to face confrontation or in here. You have mistaken my kindness and my weakness and I don't appreciate it. You try to intimidate other people in here and you have done it for years.

I asked you kindly months ago, to just please leave me alone. I thought with someone educated as yourself, that you would understand what that request meant. You're not mentally retarded, so I know you understood but you choose to include me by constantly refering to me in your posts.

As for Steve, I consider him a friend in the DX world as I do BA / Telamon and RHF and actually many others in here, I have learned some things from him (Steve) throughout the years. He has NEVER once attacked me, and I don't ever see him doing that. I don't mind if someone disagrees with me, that is going to happen from time to time, but you make it personal....and you know you do. That is part of your intimidation tactics that I don't appreciate when it is directed at me. If you continue to include me in your game, expect the fight to be brought to you because I'm not going to sit back and let you hit me first, that hasn't happen in my personal life and it isn't going to happen here. I hope I have made myself absolutely clear.

If it meets the sales-hype/description, it's destined to be a 7600gr killer. (Or at least intended to be such.)

And as a religious 7600 user (city & apt.-bound), I'll be very interested to see if I can get a better radio, for the same purpose, situation, and price.

Air band would be an indisputable improvement, as the Sony doesn't have it. Same with RDS. 700 memories would also be an improvement over the Sony, for those who need them.

Nonetheless, the proof will be in the actual using. I look forward to reviews when this radio appears. Especially reviews that compare it to the Sony. And especially reviews of the SSB and Sync.

RHF - There you go again Preaching that Hate Against "Christians" and all people of faith.

> we are all 'sinners' in the eyes of god ~ RHF

If you are going to use the name of G_D, then at least use a CAPITAL
G. That's because:

A) You have to show respect for the Creator.

B) A name is a proper noun, therefore capitalized.

Please, in the future, try to control your hatred for people of faith.

While you may not see dxAce attacking you, how can you be so blind as to not see him attacking others. Constantly. I'm just his focus of the moment. When I was gone totally from this newsgroup for two years, he just shifted to attacking others. To deny this is to admit that you have no objectivity.

You accuse me of attacking you. Right. And you never make wild accusations, like suggesting that I'm entering hundreds of negative evaluations of poor Steve and you. Like suggesting that I'm using dozens of screennames.

Don't mention me and I won't mess with you. Insult and make accusations and I'm going to return the favor. That's not intimidation.

Steve, it takes a lot of ignorance to call other people "washed up" when they hold a job, while you live off a government disability check. I hope I never become as "washed up" as you are. Thanks, once

A couple of questions regarding the Redsun RP2100 (aka, Kaito KA2100)

Does anyone have any opinion on the SSB clarifier that is sold as an add-on to the RP2100? I'd also be interested in any info on cost and where to order one.

Does anyone know where to download software to decode DRM using the soundcard on a computer?

I've found posts wher you brag about making over 50K a year from the government. Figures. I'm sure people on welfare feel they deserve their benefits, also. I find it hilarious they way you rag on gov't

One year I actually did, dufus! And that was due to a combination of factors, most notably the back pay one accrues as ones claim is being processed.

I'm with Telemon on this. I also use the remote. it's a great receiver.

is it better than the Drake? some say yes, some so no. i use both. the AOR is a bit quieter than the Drakes. the Drake is a bit more sensitive.

at least to my ears. the 7030, with a good out-board speaker, has the

I think back when Comcast killed their newsgroups service, they were using that as the token excuse too.

For anyone with at&t looking for an alternative, there are probably a few free ones available. I still use the binaries groups so I wouldn't have a viable option there, but there's a few good thrid-party services. I've been using NewsGuy.com and they launched a special recently that give you a three-for-one...

"THAT PROPHET"

By UMAR HASSAN

"THOSE WHO FOLLOW THE APOSTLE, THE UNLETTERED PROPHET, WHOM THEY FIND MENTIONED IN THEIR OWN SCRIPTURES, IN THE TORAH AND THE GOSPEL…"

Holy Qur'ân 7:157; Trans.: Yusuf Ali

Praise is to Almighty Allah and Peace and Blessings of Almighty Allah be upon all His Messengers.

Introduction

This article of mine is in connection with my previous article 'Reality'. As always, the main purpose of my article is to educate my dear readers with more facts, realities rather to impose my ideas. In this article of mine, wherever I quote any author of a Christian site, I would be calling them as 'Mr. Author'.

The purpose of these articles is not to attack the Christians, but, to bring forward the facts.

Indulgent

It is important to understand that it is not a pre-condition of acceptance that a Prophet be foretold by an earlier Prophet. Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – was a Prophet to Pharaoh even though he was not prophesized by anyone before him. Abraham – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – was Prophet to Nimrod, yet no one prophesized his coming. Noah, Lot, and others were true Prophets – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – of Almighty Allah, yet they were not foretold. The evidence of a Prophet's truth is not limited to old prophecies, but it includes the actual message brought by him.

Regarding Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –, we have records of early Jews and Christians, both monks and rabbis, who witnessed that Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – was the fulfillment of specific Biblical prophecies. The following are some examples of these people.

The first witness was Buhaira, the Christian monk, who recognized Muhammad's – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – Prophethood when he was still young and told his uncle (Muhammad's – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – uncle Abu Tâlib):

"…a great fortune lies before your nephew, so take him home quickly."

The second witness was Waraqah bin Nawfal, a Christian scholar who died soon after a meeting with Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –. Waraqah attested that Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – was the Prophet of his time and received revelation exactly like Moses and Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them –.

The Jews of Madeenah were anxiously awaiting the arrival of a prophet. The third and fourth witnesses were their two famous Jewish rabbis, Abdullah bin Salam and Mukhayriq.

The fifth and sixth witnesses were also Yemeni Jewish rabbis, Wahab ibn Munabbih, and Ka`b al-Ahbar (d. 656 CE). Ka`b found long passages of praise and the description of the Prophet prophesized by Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – in the Bible.

The Qur'ân states (interpretation of the meaning):

"Is it not a sign to them that the learned men of the Children of Israel knew it (as true)?" Holy Qur'ân 26:197

In this article of mine, you will read the indeed prophecies about Muhammad made by Moses and Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – in the Bible, and you will also read the verdicts of learned Christian and Jew Scholars upon these verses of Bible.

Beginning

It is said "All is well, that ends well". But, I say that the beginning is also very important, in order to judge the approach of a runner to the final line. If the runner doesn't have a valid start, he will be thrown out of the race. So, 'Beginning' is equally important.

In the light of my article "That Prophet", let us also start from the beginning, because, it is only then, that the facts would be in safe, nice hands.

Now, let us start from Deuteronomy 17:15

"Thou shalt in any wise set him king over thee whom the LORD thy God shall choose. One from among thy brethren shalt thou set as king over thee; thou mayest not set a stranger over thee, who is not thy brother." Deuteronomy 17:15 (Emphasis mine)

Christians quote this verse to put their innocent impression upon others that 'No NON ISRAELITE KING' over Israel. In fact, this is not the reality. If you analyze this verse by keeping the facts in your mind that, both Ishmael and Isaac – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – are brothers and in that sense their children are 'Brethren' to each other. Now, when the verse says "among thy brethren", it may mean "your Ishmaelite brothers" and when the verse says "not set a stranger over thee", it may mean "One who is not among your kin" as it is more clear on further reading of the same verse "who is not thy brother". Ishmaelites are BROTHERS to Israelites. So, the chance of 'Ishmaelite' being a king over Israelite is not at all demolished.

A Christian writer on a Christian site (I would be calling them as 'Mr. Author') under the heading of his topic "Who is the Prophet of Deuteronomy 18:18" says:

Start quote --- "I took a look at how the term 'brethren' (King James Version) is used throughout Deuteronomy. I found that it is used about 20 times; at least 14 times it means 'fellow Israelites' - members of the 12 tribes. Twice it is used to ref. the Edomites, and once for Levitical brothers, once for literal brothers (25:5), and twice for the verses in question: 18:15, 18.

Therefore, the overwhelming majority of times the context is used for referring to 'fellow Israelites'." --- End quote. (Emphasis mine)

Is "Overwhelming majority" and "Context" the real acid with which we can test? No, simply no … Let me give you an example to clarify.

Suppose, I am a teacher of a class which has a strength of 25. One day I come to the class and addressing my students I say "John is a good student. He is hard working and brilliant student. He was the toper in the class test. He not only concentrates over his studies but also participates in games. He also won a gold medal in sports. He also helps his parents in the household."

The next day I come and address the class saying "Mark is a good student. He is hard working and brilliant student. He was the toper in the class test. He not only concentrates over his studies but also participates in games. He also won a gold medal in sports."

The third day I address the class saying "Michael is a good student. He is hard working and brilliant student. He was the toper in the class test. He respects elders."

The fourth day I address my class saying "He is a good student. He is hard working and brilliant student. He was the toper in the class test. He not only concentrates over his studies but also participates in games. He also helps his parents in the household."

Now, my simple question to my dear reader is that, after looking at so many Hes Can any one dare to tell me that On the fourth day for W-H-O-M I am using so much Hes? Is it John? Mark? Michael? or WHO?

Can any one, in the background of "context" dare to give the reply? Does "overwhelming majority" help? as said by this Mr. Author. No, no one can tell for 'whom' I am using "He" on the 4th day. Just like this, the "overwhelming majority" of the occurrence of the word ‘brethren’ does not solve the question.

Interesting, as it may sound that, in the context of Deuteronomy 17:15, there is nothing to point out that for W-H-O-M the word “BRETHREN” is referred to.

"Brethren"

As Arabic and Hebrew are sister languages, the word ‘brethren’ in English is known as ‘Akh’ in Arabic and ‘Awkh’ () in Hebrew. The correct definition of the word brethren, Akh, or Awkh is

1) Brother

a) brother of same parents

b) half-brother (same father)

c) relative, kinship, same tribe

d) each to the other (reciprocal relationship)

e) (fig.) of resemblance

The reality is that, this word ‘brethren’ is very vast in its meaning, since you can notice from the wide range of meaning, which this word has.

Ishmael; The First Born

As the Prophecy reads as follows: "I WILL RAISE THEM UP A PROPHET FROM AMONG THEIR BRETHREN LIKE UNTO THEE......." The emphasis is on the words- "From among their brethren." You see, the Holy Bible speaks of Abraham as the "Friend of God". Abraham had two wives - Sarah and Hagar. Hagar bore Abraham a son - HIS FIRST-BORN- '......And Abraham called HIS SON'S name, which Hagar bare Ishmael.' (Genesis 16:15). 'And Abraham took Ishmael HIS SON....." (Genesis 17:23). 'And Ishmael HIS SON was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.' (Genesis 17:25). Up to the age of THIRTEEN Ishmael was the ONLY son and seed of Abraham, when the covenant was ratified between God and Abraham. God grants Abraham another son through Sarah, named Isaac, who was very much the junior to his brother Ishmael.

Arabs and Jews

If Ishmael and Isaac are the sons of the same father Abraham, then they are brothers. And so the children of the one are the BRETHREN of the children of the other. The children of Isaac are the Jews and the Children of Ishmael are the Arabs - so they are BRETHREN to one another. The Bible affirms, 'AND HE (ISHMAEL) SHALL DWELL IN THE PRESENCE OF ALL HIS BRETHREN.' (Genesis 16:12). 'AND HE (ISHMAEL) DIED IN THE PRESENCE OF ALL HIS BRETHREN.(Genesis 25:18). The children of Isaac are the brethren of the Ishmaelites. In like manner Muhammad is from among the brethren of the Israelites because he was a descendant of Ishmael the son of Abraham. This exactly as the prophecy has it-

'FROM AMONG THEIR BRETHREN'.(Deut.18:18). There the prophecy distinctly mentions that the coming prophet who would be like Moses, must arise NOT from the 'children of Israel' or from 'among themselves', but from among their brethren. MUHAMMAD THEREFORE WAS FROM AMONG THEIR BRETHREN!

After thinking over the word ‘brethren’, a common sense minded person will agree to me, that, being a ‘brethren’ is not the ‘ACID TEST’ for proving the eligible Prophet of Deuteronomy 18:18. Since there are so many ‘Brethren’ prophets among the Israelites themselves i.e. Solomon, Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Malachi, John the Baptist, Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – and then Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – among the children of Ishmaelite (who is the elder brother of Isaac – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –) is also their (Israelites) ‘Brethren’.

So, no one can decide, that who the ‘Eligible’ Prophet of Deuteronomy 18:18 is.

ACID TESTS

In the following are the points, which are the only “ACID TESTS” to determine the ‘Eligible’ Prophet of Deuteronomy 18:18.

1st Acid Test

“Like Unto Thee”

"I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren LIKE UNTO THEE, and will put My words in His mouth; and He shall speak unto them all that I shall command Him." Deuteronomy 18:18 (Emphasis mine)

This is a very important verse and a lot have been said upon it from the Christendom side. They want to disprove the Muslim point over this verse. Remember, there is no cure of envy in the whole world. It is same as, if you wear yellow glasses, the whole environment will be yellowish to you, and if, you wear bluish glasses, the whole environment will be bluish to you. So, throw away the glasses of envy and seek the truth.

As a student of truth, I am prepare to accept the truth, if it comes from the other side, but if, the truth comes from my side, then I want you to do the same. Now, being the seeker of truth let us analyze this verse, but with great care.

As, this verse is prophesizing about a coming person. Ask any Christian that who is prophesized in this verse? Without the slightest hesitation he will answer: "JESUS!" Now you ask him "Why Jesus? His name is not mentioned here." He will reply: "Since prophecies are word-pictures of something that is going to happen in the future, we find that the wordings of this verse adequately describe him. You see the most important words of this prophecy are - like unto thee, - LIKE YOU - like Moses, and Jesus is like Moses. Now, ask your Christian fellows "In which way is Jesus like Moses?" His reply will be "In the first place Moses was a JEW and Jesus was also a JEW; secondly, Moses was known by God "face to face," meaning God spoke to him directly and Jesus was also known by God "face to face,"; thirdly, Moses performed awesome miracles and Jesus also performed awesome miracles - therefore Jesus is like Moses and that is exactly what God had foretold Moses - " like unto thee"."

After giving such a confident reply, a Christian might be feeling the 'Holy Ghost' working inside him. But, I give you an 'Oscar' winning dialogue:

"If these are the only criteria for discovering a candidate for this prophecy of Deuteronomy 18:18, then in that case the criteria could fit any one of the following Biblical personages after Moses: - Solomon, Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Malachi, John the Baptist – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – etc., because they were also ALL "Jews" as well as known by God "face to face,". Why should we not apply this prophecy to any one of these prophets, and why only to Jesus? Why should we make fish of one and fowl of another???"

Now, wait for the Holy Ghost to reply …

As far as Miracles are concerned, they do not prove even Prophethood, or whether a man is true or false. Jesus himself said:

"For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect." Matthew 24:24 (Emphasis mine)

If false prophets and false Christs can perform miraculous feats, then these wonders or miracles do not prove even the geniuses or otherwise, of a prophet.

John the Baptist, according to Jesus, was the greatest of the Israelite prophets. Greater than Moses, David, Solomon, Isaiah and all, not excluding himself – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them –: in his own words:

"Verily I say unto you, among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist..." Matthew 11:11 (Emphasis mine)

1. Not excluding Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –: because, was he not born of a woman – Mary – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon her –?

2. The Baptist – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –, greater than "all", yet he performed not a single miracle! Miracles are no standards of judging truth and falsehood.

So, you see, according to Bible, Miracles prove nothing, just nothing.

Along with above claims, I have come across some Christians saying:

"One could just as well say Jesus was the promised prophet because, like Moses but unlike Muhammad, he was saved from death as a baby (Exodus 1:17, 2:2-10, Matthew 2:16), preached about sacrifice being the way to get forgiveness of sins (Leviticus 4, Matthew 26:28, Hebrews 9:22)."

Now, let us tackle with these claims one by one.

Firstly; when Christians say that Jesus was saved in his childhood just like Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – and quote Matthew 2:16 to prove Jesus' – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – saving.

Kindly ask your Christian brothers to read Luke 2:6-40. Because, the entire 2nd chapter of Luke does not give even a small hint about the life of Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – being in danger. Not even a small hint of such an important event recorded by Luke? Now, Christians should kindly tell us that whom should we believe, Matthew 2:16 or Luke 2:6-40?

Secondly; as far as sacrifice for sins is concerned (Leviticus 4). If you read entire chapter 4 of Leviticus, you will come to know that people who committed sin were commanded to sacrifice Animals for forgiveness from their sins and they had a method to deal with the sacrificed animals. Was that method also adopted with Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –?

The verses 12-14 of Hebrews 9 throws an impression upon the reader that the sacrifices of animals done by Israelites at the time of Moses had only outwardly impact, where as the sacrifice of Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – has cleaned our consciences. But, if you analyze the verses of Hebrew 9 under the light of Leviticus 4, you will come across many important questions:

1. According to Leviticus 4, sacrifices were offered to God. Christians say that "GOD SACRIFICED His only son to save us". The question is "to whom did God SACRIFICE Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – when God owns the whole universe?"

2. God is Just, and justice requires that nobody should be punished for the sins of others, nor should some people be saved by punishing other people. Doesn't the claim that God sacrificed Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – to save us because He was Just, contradict the definition of justice?

3. A real sacrifice is when you can't get back what you have offered, so what would be the big deal about such a sacrifice if God could recover back the same offering? (Hebrews 9:28 "… he (Jesus) will appear a second time")

4. If all the Christians are saved through Jesus and are going to Heaven no matter what they do, then the teachings of Jesus are irrelevant and the definition of good and bad are also rendered irrelevant. If this is not so, then do Christians who believe in Jesus yet do not follow his teachings nor repent go to Hell?

5. Why does the Bible say that Jesus wanted to die on the cross, when, on the cross, he was shouting "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me?" according to Matthew 27:45 and Mark 15:33?

All these questions need logical answers.

Dear reader, Jesus is most unlike Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them –

"In the FIRST place Jesus is not like Moses, because, according to Christendom - 'JESUS IS A GOD', but Moses is not God. "Therefore, Jesus is not like Moses!

"SECONDLY, according to Christendom - 'JESUS DIED FOR THE SINS OF THE WORLD', but Moses did not have to die for the sins of the world. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses!"

"THIRDLY, according to Christendom - 'JESUS WENT TO HELL FOR THREE DAYS', but Moses did not have to go there. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses!"

I can only give these references and escape away, but I wouldn't be doing justice then. Therefore I will be completely handling the situation. I ask my dear readers especially Christian readers to think with a very cool mind that, these are not hard facts, solid facts; they are mere matters of belief over which the little ones can stumble and fall.

Therefore, let us discuss something very simple, very easy that if your little ones are called in to hear the discussion, would have no difficulty in following it, shall we?

The Most Crucial Point

No New Laws

A very, very important, basic and most crucial point which makes Prophet Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – different from all the other Israelite Prophets and similar to Prophet Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – is that both of them brought new laws and new regulations for their people.

All the Israelite Prophets, Solomon, Isaiah, Ezekiel, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Malachi, John the Baptist, including Jesus – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon them – were the followers of Prophet Moses – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – and the comprehensive ceremonial law, which he brought.

Moses not only gave the Ten Commandments to the Israelites, but a very comprehensive ceremonial law for the guidance of his people. Muhammad comes to a people steeped in barbarism and ignorance. They married their step-mothers; they buried their daughters alive; drunkenness, adultery, idolatry, and gambling were the order of the day. Gibbon describe the Arabs before Islam in his "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire",

'THE HUMAN BRUTE, ALMOST WITHOUT SENSE, IS POORLY DISTINGUISHED FROM THE REST OF THE ANIMAL CREATION.'

There was hardly anything to distinguish between the "man" and the "animal" of the time; they were animals in human form.

From this abject barbarism, Muhammad elevated them, in the words of Thomas Carlyle, "into torch-bearers of light and learning".

'TO THE ARAB NATION IT WAS AS A BIRTH FROM DARKNESS INTO LIGHT. ARABIA FIRST BECAME ALIVE BY MEANS OF IT. A POOR SHEPHERD PEOPLE, ROAMING UNNOTICED IN ITS DESERTS SINCE THE CREATION OF THE WORLD. SEE, THE UNNOTICED BECOMES WORLD NOTABLE, THE SMALL HAS GROWN WORLD-GREAT. WITHIN ONE CENTURY AFTERWARDS ARABIA WAS AT GRANADA ON ONE HAND AND AT DELHI ON THE OTHER. GLANCING IN VALOUR AND SPLENDOUR, AND THE LIGHT OF GENIUS, ARABIA SHINES OVER A GREAT SECTION OF THE WORLD. ..." (Emphasis mine)

The fact is that Muhammad gave his people a Law and Order they never had before.

As regards Jesus, when the Jews felt suspicious of him that he might be an impostor with designs to pervert their teachings, Jesus took pains to assure them that he had not come with a new religion - no new laws and no new regulations. I quote his own words:

"Think not that I have come to abolish the law and the prophets; I have come not to abolish them but to fulfill them. For truly, I say to you, till heaven and earth pass away, not an iota, not a dot, will pass from the law until all is accomplished." Mathew 5:17-18 (Emphasis mine)

In other words he had not come with any new laws or regulation he came only to fulfill the old law. This is what he gave the Jews to understand - unless he was speaking with the tongue in his cheek trying to bluff the Jews into accepting him as a man of God and by subterfuge trying to ram a new religion down their throats. No! This Messenger of God would never resort to such foul means to subvert the Religion of God. He himself fulfilled the laws. He observed the commandments of Moses, and he respected the Sabbath. At no time did a single Jew point a finger at him to say, 'why don't you fast' or 'why don't you wash your hands before you break bread', which charges they always levied against his disciples, but never against Jesus. This is because as a good Jew he honored the laws of the Prophets who preceded him. In short, he had created no new religion and had brought no new law like Moses and Muhammad. Again "Yes." is the answer. "Therefore,

Jesus is not like Moses but Muhammad is like Moses."

Watertight Arguments

Father and Mother

Moses had a father and a mother. Muhammad also had a father and a mother. But Jesus had only a mother, and no human father. Is this true?" "Yes" is the answer. Meaning: "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses, but Muhammad is like Moses!"

Miraculous Birth

Moses and Muhammad were born in the normal, natural course, i.e. the physical association of man and woman; but Jesus was created by a special miracle. You will recall that we are told in the Gospel of St. Matthew 1:18 ".....Before they came together, (Joseph the Carpenter and Mary) she was found to be with a child of the Holy Spirit." And St. Luke tells us that when the good news of the birth of a holy son was announced to her, Mary reasoned:

"...How shall this be, since I have no husband? And the angel said to her, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you..." (Luke 1:34-35). The Holy Qur'ân confirms the miraculous birth of Jesus, in nobler and sublimer terms. In answer to her logical question (interpretation of the meaning):

" O MY LORD! HOW SHALL I HAVE A SON WHEN NO MAN HATH TOUCHED ME? " The angel says in reply: "EVEN SO: ALLAH CREATETH WHAT HE WILLETH: WHEN HE HATH DECREED A PLAN, HE BUT SAITH TO IT "BE," AND IT IS " Holy Qur'ân 3:47

It is not necessary for God to plant a seed in man or animal. He merely wills it and it comes into being. This is the Muslim conception of the birth of Jesus. In short, Jesus was born miraculously as against the natural birth of Moses and Muhammad. "Yes!" is the answer. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses, but Muhammad is like Moses. And God says to Moses in the Book of Deuteronomy 18:18 "LIKE UNTO THEE" (Like You, Like Moses) and Muhammad is like Moses."

Marriage Ties

Moses and Muhammad married and begat children, but Jesus remained a bachelor all his life. Again "Yes." "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses, but Muhammad is like Moses."

Jesus Rejected by his People

Moses and Muhammad were accepted as prophets by their people in their very lifetime. No doubt the Jews gave endless trouble to Moses and they murmured in the wilderness, but as a nation, they acknowledged that Moses was a Messenger of God sent to them. The Arabs too made Muhammad's life impossible. He suffered very badly at their hands. After 13 years of preaching in Makkah, he had to emigrate from the city of his birth. But before his demise, the Arab nation as a whole accepted him as the Messenger of Allah. But according to the Bible: 'He (Jesus) came to his own home, and his own people received him not.' John 1:11. And even today, after two thousand years, his people- the Jews, as a whole, have rejected him. Is this true? "Yes." "THEREFORE JESUS IS NOT LIKE MOSES, BUT MUHUMMED IS LIKE MOSES."

"Other-Worldly" Kingdom

Moses and Muhammad were prophets as well as kings. A prophet means a man who receives Divine Revelation for the Guidance of Man and this Guidance he conveys to God's creatures as received without any addition or deletion. A king is a person who has the power of life and death over his people. It is immaterial whether the person wears a crown or not, or whether he was ever addressed as king or monarch: if the man has the prerogative of inflicting capital punishment - HE IS A KING. Moses possessed such a power. Do you remember the Israelite who was found picking up firewood on Sabbath Day, and Moses had him stoned to death? (Numbers- 15:13). There are other crimes also mentioned in the Bible for which capital punishment was inflicted on the Jews at the behest of Moses. Muhammad too, had the power of life and death over his people.

There are instances in the Bible of persons who were given gift of prophecy only, but they were not in a position to implement their directives. Some of these holy men of God who were helpless in the face of stubborn rejection of their message, were the prophets Lot, Jonah, Daniel, Ezra, and John the Baptist. They could only deliver the message, but could not enforce the Law. The Holy Prophet Jesus also belonged to this category. The Christian Gospel clearly confirms this: when Jesus was dragged before the Roman Governor, Pontius Pilate, Charged for sedition, Jesus made a convincing point in his defense to refute the false charge: JESUS ANSWERED, "My kingship is not of this world': if my kingship were of this world, my servants would have fight, that I might not be handed over to the Jews, but my Kingship is not from the world" John 18:36. This convinced Pilate (A Pagan) that though Jesus might not be in full possession of his mental faculty, he did not strike him as being a danger to his rule. Jesus claimed a spiritual Kingdom only; in other words he only claimed to be a Prophet. Is this true?" "Yes." Is the reply. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses but Muhammad is like Moses."

How they Departed

Both Moses and Muhammad died natural deaths, but according to Christianity, Jesus was violently killed on the cross. Is this true?" "Yes." is the reply. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses but Muhammad is like Moses."

Heavenly Abode

Moses and Muhammad both lie buried in earth, but according to you, Jesus in heaven. "Yes." Without any hesitation to Christians. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses but Muhammad is like Moses."

Forced to Migrate

Moses was forced to emigrate in adulthood to Median while Muhammad was forced to emigrate in his life too, towards Madeenah. Whereas Jesus did not have such forced emigration in his adulthood. "Therefore Jesus is not like Moses but Muhammad is like Moses."

The crucial attributes that the future prophet would have to possess to be "like unto Moses" are all found in Muhammad and not in Jesus.

2nd Acid Test

Words in the Mouth

The prophecy proceeds further: '.....and I WILL PUT MY WORDS INTO HIS MOUTH .....' Deuteronomy 18:18 (Emphasis mine)

The Holy Qur'ân says the same about Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – (interpretation of the meaning):

"Neither does he speak out of his own desire: that [which he conveys to you] is but [a divine] inspiration with which he is being inspired." Holy Qur'ân 53:3-4

What does it mean when it is said 'I will put my words in your mouth?'

Suppose, I ask you to open Deuteronomy chapter 18, verse 18, and read. Now, if you read: would I be putting my words into your mouth?" The answer is: "No." "But," If, I tell you to open the Bible read Deuteronomy 18:18 and you tell me that "I can't read as I am an illiterate." Then, my reply would be 'repeat' after me. Therefore, I were to teach you something, which you have no knowledge, and if I ask you to read after me what I utter i.e.

Would I not be putting these unheard words which you utter, into your mouth? The words of the Holy Qur'ân, the Revelation vouchsafed by the Almighty God to Muhammad, were revealed.

Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – was forty years of age. He was in a cave some three miles north of the City of Makkah. It was the 27th night of the Muslim month of Ramadaan. In the cave the Archangel Gabriel commands him in his mother tongue: 'IQRA' which means READ! Or PROCLAIM! Or RECITE! Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him – is terrified and in his bewilderment replies "MAA ANA BEQAARI" which means I AM NOT LEARNED! The angel commands him a second time with the same result. For the third time the angel continues.

Now Muhammad, grasps, that what was required of him was to repeat! to rehearse! And he repeats the words as they were put into his mouth:

These are the first five verses, which were revealed to Muhammad – peace and blessings of Almighty Allah be upon him –, which now occupy the beginning of the 96th chapter of the Holy Qur’ân.

During the next twenty-three years of his prophetic life, words were 'Put into his mouth', and he uttered them. They made an indelible impression on his heart and mind: and as the volume of the Sacred Scripture (Holy Qur’ân) grew, they were recorded on palm-leaf fiber, on skins and on the shoulder-blades of animals; and in the hearts of his devoted disciples. Before his demise these words were arranged according to his instructions in the order in which we find them today in the Holy Qur’ân.

PROOF

We all know that this man Muhammad was a Creature and not the Creator. Yet this man foretold such facts, which modern day people with such mind-blowing technology are telling us

Creation of the Universe

Dr. Maurice Bucaille, in "The Bible, The Qur’ân and Science", says:

"From an examination of creation as described in the Qur’ân, an extremely important general concept emerges: The Qur’ânic narration is quite different from the Biblical narration. This idea contradicts the parallels which are often wrongly drawn by Western authors to emphasize the resemblance between the two texts."

"(God) who created the earth and heavens above." Holy Qur’ân 20:4 (interpretation of the meaning)

"Do the disbelievers not see that the heavens and the earth were joined together, and then We split them apart? …" Holy Qur’ân 21:30 (interpretation of the meaning)

"God is the one who created the heavens, the earth and what is between them..." Holy Qur’ân 25:59 (interpretation of the meaning)

"God then rose turning towards the heaven when it was smoke" Holy Qur’ân 41:11 (interpretation of the meaning)

There is a strong tendency in the West to claim that Muhammad copied the general outlines mentioned in the Qur’ân from the Bible.

Dr. Maurice Bucaille, in “The Bible, The Qur’ân and Science”, says:

"Brief survey of Qur’ânic references to creation clearly shows us how modern scientific data and statements in the Qur’ân consistently agree on a large number of points. In contrast, the successive phases of creation mentioned in the Biblical text are totally unacceptable. For example, in Genesis 1:9-19 the creation of the earth (on the 3rd day) is placed before that of the heavens (on the 4th day). It is a well known fact that our planet came from its own star, the sun. In such circumstances, how could anyone claim that Muhammad, the supposed author of the Qur’ân, drew his inspiration from the Bible. Such a claim would mean that, of his own accord, he corrected the Biblical text to arrive at the correct concept concerning the formation of the Universe. Yet the correct concept was reached by scientists many centuries after his death." (Emphasis mine)

http://mises.org/books/TRTS/ > Ironically - "Reproduced from a booklet published by General Motors"

'GM offers an ironic confirmation of Marxist logic. According to orthodox Marxism, the capitalist system becomes fascist as its internal contradictions get the better of it. As a theory of political economy, this analysis falls apart. But at the retail level, there’s an undeniable truth to it. Industries that once had a proudly free-market stance suddenly sprout arguments in favor of protectionism, “industrial policy,” and “strategic competitiveness” once they find that they can’t hack it in the market. The steel and textile industries, certain automobile companies—Chrysler in the 1980s, GM today—and vast swaths of agriculture claim that the state and business should be “partners” at precisely the moment it’s clear they can no longer compete. They quickly become captives of politicians seeking to protect jobs or donations or both. These “last-gasp capitalists” do the country a great disservice by skewing the political climate toward a modified form of national socialism and corporatism. They’re fleeing the rough-and-tumble of capitalist competition for the warm embrace of It Takes a Village economics, and Hillary Clinton calls it “progress.”' - Jonah Goldberg

The Spanish-language broadcaster will get more breathing room under a revision to its debt agreements with lenders. Univision must repay a revolving $150 million loan, pay fees to its lenders and see its credit line drop to $600 million. But it won't face the threat of defaulting.

Why did it not surprise me to see you use a different Screen ID to post another Anti-HD Radio Posts; but this time with the Bigotry of the term "Wet-Backs" with respect to Univision and Spanish Language Broadcasting in the USA.

While it is true that some/many of the Univision Spanish Language Broadcasting in the USA may be listened to {watched} by Illegal Alien Mexican Invaders : It is also very True that many/most of the Univision Spanish Language Broadcasting in the USA may be listened to {watched} by American Citizens who speak Spanish as a first or second language; and THEY ARE NOT WET-BACKS [.]

Here in the Fresno area, the analog stations are all going off the air at different times during the day on Friday, starting at about 9:00AM, and one is reported to stay on until 4:00PM, so I am sure people will
is happening tomorrow. MIght mean I have to rescan several times tomorrow. I rescanned this afternoon and found 5 new channels on digital.

I was thinking about buying the ETON E1. Is it a good shortwave radio?
Is it better than the SONY ICF-2010? I want to DX with it like my 2010.
Is the signal stability really good? Is the stock antenna pretty decent?
I just want to know what you guys think. If you say it's a good shortwave, i might buy it. jacob

If I buy another portable that will be the one. There is plenty of info all over the net about that particular piece. There's a few guys in here that own one, I'm sure someone will give you a holler. I am sure you won't be dissapointed in it:-)

I'm pretty happy with mine. Not crazy about having to pay another $100-200 for the XM head and antenna.. but then, I'm not where I can get XM anyway, and not likely to be in the foreseeable future. The MW/SW is excellent and great audio.

No, it's in this public news group posted by you Kookaburra. There is no imagination required. I explained the projection concept in depth but you don't get it.

Goofing on you is a perversion?

Funny how everyone who doesn't suck up to you seems to be a pervert.

Some Basic Islamic Beliefs
Please forgive me for any disturbance, but I have an important subject to address to you regarding FAITH, and I Don’t intend to overload your email with unnecessary messages…

Some Basic Islamic Beliefs
1) Belief in God:
Muslims believe in one, unique, incomparable God, Who has no son nor partner, and that none has the right to be worshipped but Him alone. He is the true God, and every other deity is false. He has the most magnificent names and sublime perfect attributes. No one shares His divinity, nor His attributes. In the Quran, God describes Himself:

Say, “He is God, the One. God, to Whom the creatures turn for their needs. He begets not, nor was He begotten, and there is none like Him.” (Quran, 112:1-4)

Chapter 112 of the Quran written in Arabic calligraphy.

No one has the right to be invoked, supplicated, prayed to, or shown any act of worship, but God alone.

God alone is the Almighty, the Creator, the Sovereign, and the Sustainer of everything in the whole universe. He manages all affairs. He stands in need of none of His creatures, and all His creatures depend on Him for all that they need. He is the All-Hearing, the All-Seeing, and the All-Knowing. In a perfect manner, His knowledge encompasses all things, the open and the secret, and the public and the private. He knows what has happened, what will happen, and how it will happen. No affair occurs in the whole world except by His will. Whatever He wills is, and whatever He does not will is not and will never be. His will is above the will of all the creatures. He has power over all things, and He is able to do everything. He is the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful, and the Most Beneficent. In one of the sayings of the Prophet Muhammad , we are told that God is more merciful to His creatures than a mother to her child.1 God is far removed from injustice and tyranny. He is All-Wise in all of His actions and decrees. If someone wants something from God, he or she can ask God directly without asking anyone else to intercede with God for him or her.

God is not Jesus, and Jesus is not God.2 Even Jesus himself rejected this. God has said in the Quran:

Indeed, they have disbelieved who have said, “God is the Messiah (Jesus), son of Mary.” The Messiah said, “Children of Israel, worship God, my Lord and your Lord. Whoever associates partners in worship with God, then God has forbidden Paradise for him, and his home is the Fire (Hell). For the wrongdoers,3 there will be no helpers." (Quran, 5:72)

God is not a trinity. God has said in the Quran:

Indeed, they disbelieve who say, "God is the third of three (in a trinity)," when there is no god but one God. If they desist not from what they say, truly, a painful punishment will befall the disbelievers among them. Would they not rather repent to God and ask His forgiveness? For God is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. The Messiah (Jesus), son of Mary, was no more than a messenger… (Quran, 5:73-75)

Islam rejects that God rested on the seventh day of the creation, that He wrestled with one of His angels, that He is an envious plotter against mankind, or that He is incarnate in any human being. Islam also rejects the attribution of any human form to God. All of these are considered blasphemous. God is the Exalted. He is far removed from every imperfection. He never becomes weary. He does not become drowsy nor does he sleep.

The Arabic word Allah means God (the one and only true God who created the whole universe). This word Allah is a name for God, which is used by Arabic speakers, both Arab Muslims and Arab Christians. This word cannot be used to designate anything other than the one true God. The Arabic word Allah occurs in the Quran about 2700 times. In Aramaic, a language related closely to Arabic and the language that Jesus habitually spoke,4 God is also referred to as Allah.

2) Belief in the Angels:
Muslims believe in the existence of the angels and that they are honored creatures. The angels worship God alone, obey Him, and act only by His command. Among the angels is Gabriel, who brought down the Quran to Muhammad .

3) Belief in God's Revealed Books:
Muslims believe that God revealed books to His messengers as proof for mankind and as guidance for them. Among these books is the Quran, which God revealed to the Prophet Muhammad . God has guaranteed the Quran's protection from any corruption or distortion. God has said:

Indeed, We have sent down the Quran, and surely We will guard it (from corruption). (Quran, 15:9)

4) Belief in the Prophets and Messengers of God:
Muslims believe in the prophets and messengers of God, starting with Adam, including Noah, Abraham, Ishmael, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, and Jesus (peace be upon them). But God's final message to man, a reconfirmation of the eternal message, was revealed to the Prophet Muhammad . Muslims believe that Muhammad is the last prophet sent by God, as God has said:

Muhammad is not the father of any one of your men, but he is the Messenger of God and the last of the prophets… (Quran, 33:40)

Muslims believe that all the prophets and messengers were created human beings who had none of the divine qualities of God.

5) Belief in the Day of Judgment:
Muslims believe in the Day of Judgment (the Day of Resurrection) when all people will be resurrected for God's judgment according to their beliefs and deeds.

6) Belief in Al-Qadar:
Muslims believe in Al-Qadar, which is Divine Predestination, but this belief in Divine Predestination does not mean that human beings do not have freewill. Rather, Muslims believe that God has given human beings freewill. This means that they can choose right or wrong and that they are responsible for their choices.

The belief in Divine Predestination includes belief in four things: 1) God knows everything. He knows what has happened and what will happen. 2) God has recorded all that has happened and all that will happen. 3) Whatever God wills to happen happens, and whatever He wills not to happen does not happen. 4) God is the Creator of everything

I'll have to say Bob, when I read your response I thought it was rather cranky. But I checked his other posts, which I just started doing recently with some people and he is either extremely inquisitive or just like you said.:-)

Not that there is anything wrong with questions. I asked a lot of them that sounded silly when I started. But I think other than one post I read, every thing else was asking a question. It was kind of strange.
Just saying.

You do realize very few people listen to HF broadcast these days. Seems Definately a lot cheaper than when I bought my E1, then. The "cheap" adapter head was $100 and the "deluxe" was $200. And that was with a lot of shopping around and price comparisons. Maybe I'll have another look.

Nice, but not relevant. My point was that RHF shouldn't castigate others for what he calls "hatred" when he clearly spews hatred toward Obama daily.

This is a video about some pirate stations.

I start with 1512khz (pirate), then I turn upwards to 1548 (Classic Gold, no pirate), and then above 1600Khz, seeking a station on 1620, about 1640 and the last is 1665Khz.

Each time I tune the loop antenna to max the signal (I get a row of 10 leds or more). The single led in the right corner is the "sync" led. At the end of the video you clearly hear the result of the synchrone detection on the sony 2001D/2010D.

Without the self made loop (about 86cm) the signal for these pirate stations is about ZERO leds...

Great big old rotten shed that was in my back yard I tore down last year.I set up two of my water sprinklers so I can wet those bare dirt areas down real good for grass seed.I have to run those brats out of my back yard.I can't get any grass to grow with them stompin around back there.

I have a rain gauge I bought at the Goodwill store about ten years ago.It says on there, HARCROS CHEMICALS INC. 1030 WHOLESALE ROW JACKSON,MISS. 39201
601 - 969 - 3177

I want to get at least one and a half to two inches of water in the ground before I spread the grass seed.

No they don't. They listen to FM and web streams like the rest of the world. Maybe a few Pacific Islanders without broadband, but not a significant audience anywhere anymore.

There's plenty to enjoy about shortwave, but listening to religious crazies ain't part of it.

Ah, the first day of my two week vacation. Listening to the radio is my biggest goal for the next two weeks...

R. Kuwait, Kuwait, 13620 at 1735 UTC in Arabic. ME music. Sio-434, best in USB to avoid WYFR on 13615. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

R. Japan, via UAE, on 13740 at 1743 UTC in Japanese. Soft-voiced YL in Japanese, US pop songs being sung in Japanese. SIO-343, target = MEast. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

CVC Int'l, via Lusaka, Zambia, on 13590 at 1750 UTC in English. US pop mx, M announcer w/ Australian accent, asking everyone for help in stomping out cholera. SIO-342, lots of noise. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

BBC, Rampisham, UK, on 13675 at 1754 UTC in English. M w/ news, sports w/ scores, ID. SIO-242, target = Russia. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

R. Kuwait, Kuwait, on 11990 at 1800 signing on in English. Time pips, M w/ ID & other s/on announcements, including that the EE program will be on for the next three hours. Seemed like this station was broadcasting in different lang up to ToH, but nothing listed in EiBi. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

BBC, via Ascension Island, on 15105 at 1815 UTC in French. M w/ ID, prob news. SIO-343+. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

V of Nigeria, Ikorodu, Nigeria, on 15120 at 1820 UTC in English. Lively African hi-life music, heavily-accented M announcer w/ brief ID between songs. SIO-434, best in lower sync to avoid some splatter feom WYFR's Spanish programming on 15130. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

RTVM, Morocco, on 15345 at 1825 UTC in Arabic. ME vocals, M talking, no clear ID, so presumed. SIO-343, no trace of Argentina. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

CVC, Chile, on 15410 at 1830 UTC in Portuguese. Lively, upbeat progamming w/ pop mx and plenty of “CVC” IDs. SIO-344. (Bryant – KY, E1, June 13)

Queerville (Saugatuck/Douglas) is indeed a few miles south of here. One can only hope that the North Korean's have a nuke targeted at that location!

My advice: You can more readily pick up AIDS in your hometown rather than waste precious carbon resources during the drive over here.

Nope, the truth is I won't be working at Louisville Tech, any longer.
As of June 29, I'll be working elsewhere.

Junk car crackdown.
www.clarionledger.com

My 1914 Ford T Model car is sitting on my trailer in my back yard.My trailer is sitting on some thick concrete slabs I had left over from my big old rotten shed I tore down last year.My 1978 Dodge van is sitting in my driveway, that van has three old maypop tires which do not hold air, come Monday, I am going to take those three wheels/tires to a used tire place about half a mile West (on Highway 80) of doggy's couch and get some better maypop tires put on those wheels.The gas tank on that van is so rusty and over the years I have repaired at least half a dozen leaks on the bottom of that gas tank with fiberglass.I am going to rig up/strap on a small plastic gas tank (about two gallons) under neath the van so that if/when those Communist bastards come over here and wanting to know if the van runs, I can start it up and let it run.I don't need to do anything to my new old 1983 Dodge van I bought last September.It runs just fine.

Well, it's painfully obvious that you don't have much more to do in

Again, have a nice weekend, Steve. I'm going to listen to my radios

That beautiful divorced woman next door to me, a few weeks ago, her boyfriend pushed her car (I think he said it is a 1998 Chevrolet Imprezia, something like that) into that back yard over there.Something is wrong with that car, it is a red car.There is another junk car sitting on the front yard of that house across the street, just a short way up the street from me, that car has been sitting there for a year or more.When the city clowns get over to this neighborhood, I reckon they will haul those two cars to the impound yard.

SRTC, Omdurman, Sudan on 7200 at 0400 UTC in Arabic. African tribal music up to TOH, time pips, then an ID and into nx by deep-voiced man. SIO-444, seemingly stronger every night. ARO QRM not too bad, for a change. (Bryant – KY, Eton E5, June 14)

R. Ethiopia, Ethiopia, on 7110 at 0330 UTC in Amharic. YL in lang sounding like a cross between Arabic and African vernacular. Horn of Africa mx. M w/ “E-tea-o-pia” ID at 0345. Only broadcaster heard below 7200 on 40 meters. SIO-343, pretty good. (Bryant – KY, Eton E5, June 14)

RNT, N'Djamena, Chad, on 6165 at *0428. Wonder if something’s up in Chad? Supposed to be signing on in French, but just playing a loop of African melody, being played on xylophone-type percussion instrument. SIO-343. (Bryant – KY, Icom R75 & Eton E5, June 14)

This is a screenshot of an Icom R-75 being controlled by the Linux version of 'TK75'.

http://scotiabunk.com/Icom75.png

It's a script based program which can be adapted to W*ndows, Mac or Linux. You have to have the TCL/TK stuff installed first.

The separate menus are of the 'tear off as needed' variety. Open a menu, and then, if desired, detach them from the main graphic and place them wherever you want, one at a time or all of them.

The operating/installation instructions aren't too clear for the Ubuntu variety, so it took me a while to figure out what was wrong.

The program and overview may be found here:

http://parnass.org/tk75/

New job? This is most likely another diversionary tactic, like the time he called me on the telephone and claimed that he'd been fired by Louisville Technical Institute.

That Herculodge Site is a great review site. Very informative site and it makes for some good reading IMO. Thanks for the link. :-)

Mike,
I mounted my BC 245 in my pickup this afternoon. Been wanting to do that for a year so I got it done. While I was there I drained and flushed the radiator and put "summer coolent" in, nice green.
I'm going to try to change oil tomorrow. We just had about a 4 inch raid and looks like we have a little storm coming in the next few days.

I'll get some DXing done when I getaroundtoit. I enjoy DXing but it takes time and I stay so busy I don't know how I ever had time to work.

I get my physcal this week so that will take two days BUT, if like Dec. I'll be a "Perfect Man". How's you diabetes, trying to stay as close to 120-130 as I can. I lift and cycle all week also. My mouth keeps my sugar up.

I usually take my ICOM IC-2GAT 2-meter HT with me in the auto. Have it programmed with local public service stuff.

Had the darn thing since '90 or so and it's still like new.

Lord God in heaven, still going at it? Hey Telamon, let him go and let the thread die, to be forever remembered in the archives. ;-) I think I was over in my survival newsgroup, was that it BDK? And ole' BDK was doing the same thing over there. Actually he was "cheating on you Telamon" in a way IMO. He was using his same phrases and wording that I "thought" was especially for you, but he was doing it to someone else. I know I responded to you BDK with the ole'...."You doing the same thing over here" response and if you responded to me....I apologize....I didn't remember the thread - so don't take it personal. Carry on, as I am sure you will. I've been BCB listening all night, you should try it sometime. :-) I "almost" got a great catch, may even called it spectacular, but not quite enough.

It stays around 90-95 most of the days, nights are around 85. Humidity says about 99. The fans in the house will ring the water out of the air at times,

There's an older (stable) version of fldigi in "synaptic". Hamlib will change freqs and modes on the R-75. Fldigi will decode various digital modes including CW.

Been there and done that, as you know, Cuz!

Kinda the opposite is Africa, in places, where humidity is a premium.

Getting ready here to get the AC unit in the window as it may just really get hot in the next week or so.

Lake levels are back up to their long term averages.

I still often wonder why folks refer to the ICOM as an 'R-75', when clearly, right on the front of the doorstop, it says R75...

Sometimes those Helicopters in Vietnam looked like flying water sprinklers, wringing that moisture out of the air and blowing it downward.The weather over there is always hot and very humid, all day long and all night long.I was at Shannon Wright Compound www.114thaviationcompany.com for about three months and then I was transfered to Tan Son Nhut for the rest of my year over there in 1964. www.tsna.org

Every time I took a shower bath, as soon as I turned off the water I was sweating again.I guess the weather further North of Saigon might be cooler, up in the hills/mountains.

In the Summertime, the weather gets hot and humid here too, but not as humid as in Vietnam.Sometimes, it gets over 100 degrees here.It gets to be a real ''burner''. www.wxusa.com/wx1/Jackson-MS.htm

JT and Dave www.supertalkms.com used to argure back and forth with each other on their radio talk show, just like two kindergarten kids.I think Paul Gallo told them to cool it!

Mike,
I have the CCrane version of the RP2100(on the advice of John Plimmer) and I did not know that there was ever an add on device! Is it an internal mod? External connection? Where would it be connected? Don't use it much, too busy with my Hammarlund HQ-145XC! When I do use it, it is fantastic on BCB, which is only what I listen to anymore.

No, not misspelled at all, boy. A prevert (such as yourself) is one who is predisposed to perversion, hence "prevert".

Quick, call Oxford. Steve Lare has created a new English word!

Aren't we lucky to be the first to see it?

We owe so much to Steve's linguistic prowess!

On the back of the RP2100 and KA2100 (not sure about CCR) there is a jack that connects directly to the IF. That's where the SSB add-on connects. You can also run a line to a computer and decode digital modes, including DRM.

The SSB add-on costs about $37 and can be purchased off of eBay. I love this portable and I'm really thinking about orderering the external BFO.

That's because we have been on a cooling trend for more than a decade.
It's colder here in the summer than when I first moved out here to the west coast.

It's a good thing we have all that Al Gore hot air going around or the coming ice age would already be here.

We may have hit the solar cycle bottom this summer. The next few months will tell. The SW reception will improve and we will probably go back to a small warming trend that will freak out all the clowns in the global warming crowd. Even though it is the sun continuing to control the earths climate the global warming clowns will insist it is man according to their ego centric group think. Pass the KooL-Aid.

The BBC said Sunday that the satellites it uses to broadcast in Persian were being jammed from Iran, disrupting its reports on the hotly-disputed presidential election.

VOA Adds Satellite Frequencies in Run-Up to Iranian Election

Washington, D.C., (RPRN) 5/29/2009-– The Voice of America has added new satellite frequencies to ensure millions of Iranians are able to watch and listen to programs on VOA’s Persian News Network (PNN) in the run-up to Iran’s June 12 presidential elections.

The addition of new satellite paths (on Arabsat Badr-4 and Eutelsat HotBird) comes after viewers flooded PNN with reports of signal interference. VOA officials subsequently confirmed that Iranian authorities have greatly increased jamming in parts of Tehran, the capital, and some other locations.

I figure the R75 being so far away from the operating chair on the floor next to the door makes it hard to read the small lettering on the front

I've often said that summer does not come to Michigan until July 4 and lasts until July 5, and this year I may be right.

But, the sun shines, and the grass is green!

Since I have lived in southern California the average temperatures have gone down 2 to 3 degrees Celsius in Ventura. The summers especially are much cooler than they used to be.

Dave here is "Why" an Iranian Uprising Can't Happen :

Not much chance of any real uprising with the Iranian Revolutionary Guards ("IRG") ready to go into the Streets and maintain O R D E R within the Islamic Republic.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Islamic_Revolutionary_Guards_Corps
* The IRGs are backed by the "Basij" and Iran Volunteer-Based Paramilitary Force
-aka- Islamic People's National Militia http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Basij
* The Basij has a quasi-decentralised network with Branches in almost every Iranian Mosque.
* The Basij include the University Basij, Middle School Basij; and High School Basij
* The Basij comprises 2,500 Battalions of 300–350 Islamic Warriors each
* All Members of the Basij Battalions are Trained to use light Arms and Rifles
* The Basij are Active in Monitoring the Activities of all Iranian Citizens
NOTE the Basij identify and root-out "Westoxication" Western {non-Islamic} Liberal Secular Ideas.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gharbzadegi
* The Basij Forces generally undertake Security Checks in Urban Areas setting up Street Inspection Posts to stop potential Insurgency
* The Basij can Mobilize a Total of One Million Men
* 25% of Basij carry Firearms, usually an AK-47 Rifle
* The Basij is under the Control of the Office of the Supreme Leader 'not' the President/PM
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Army_of_the_Guardians_of_the_Islamic_Revolution

The Basij is a prototype for Prez Obama's so-called

Larry,
Why don't you setup a DXing platform in your RV Van. I have my RV setup with 12v plugs, and a loaded antenna mounted to the outside as well as a longwire I can run out then I go set in the desert in the winter with a nice fire, my radios and enjoy.

They don't tell us shite... and we don't participate in NEO (Noncombatant Evacutation excercise), because we don't plan on leaving. The Koreans can't go anywhere if Uncle Kim decides to get froggy, so why should we? We've enough prior experience with him that we don't worry about anything he says, it's all showmanship/brinksmanship and trying to get some gimmies out of the US. He'd be stupider than he looks to actually try to back up anything he says, since his country would be turned into a glowing pile of rubble about 15 minutes after the first nuke he tried to use..

Hey B.A. - I saw a show last week and thought about you.:-) It was on the food in S.Korea. All I can say is "Oh my." Some of it, well, actually most of it - I just shook my head and pictured you really tying into a bowl of many of the delectables over there.;-)

I learned that the S.Korean's love fermented food so too speak. Bean paste? I saw how they made it, actually just letting it ruin? That is a staple over there huh? There were some foods though, that looked pretty good. It would be hard to put on weight over there, not many overweight S.Koreans, I do like how they implement soups in all their meals though. Do the North eat the same things as the South? I figured you would be the one to know.:-)

Actually, there are LOTS of fat S. Koreans. The show you watched was on "traditional" Korean food. There is still a lot of that eaten, but the diet has been largely westernized, with a lot more meat proteins, etc. Also, they eat a lot more things like pizza and burgers. Even in my small town, there are over a dozen fast food outlets, including at least three pizzerias, four burger joints, several chicken places and a Mexican food restaurant with a limited menu. All this in a town of around 10,000 (I think that includes the base, which has it's own fast food joints (Charley's Steakery, Burger King, Pizza Hut, Anthony's Pizza, Subway, Popeye's, Taco Bell, etc.)

We personally don't eat much Korean food. Some we do like, though. Such as Yaki Mandu (Korean spring rolls), Dong Kas (a veal patty with a special breading) and Chop Choe (sort of like lo mein). There's also pachingi, which is like a cross between an omelet and a pizza, with potatos, eggs, onions, peppers, etc. I prefer the ones without the seafood... most are made with calamari.. ugh..

LOL, that's a good one, since I don't believe in the Obama BC nonsense.

Are you now going to start insulting particular brands of radio? When will your 'tote it, BOY' phase begin?

Then will you also start calling people 'Nigger' like your hero was doing?

Time for you get back to your former honourable self and give up the childish, insulting attacks.

You can do it. I know you're a decent guy at heart.

Playing 'Internet tough guy' really doesn't suit you.

I expect that there is only one fat north korean. The rest are starving.

No need to feel bad. If you take 'dog next door' as the possessive bit, then 'door's' makes sense. You said the 'dog next door' has an opinion.

Either way works.

If we get really anal, it would be mostestly correct thus:

'Your opinion matters as much to me as the next door dog's.'

I know it's time to go to sleep when stuff like this starts looking interesting.

I made the original door stop R75 joke. It's just nostalgia from an old "your radio sucks" thread for people that were around at the time. Other than the well known problems the R75 is a fine radio.

"Myeah"?

The kookaburra needs to go back to alt.idiots or some other alt group.

Then his opinion means as much as what comes out of it. No sense making things more complicated than it needs to be as it will just go over his

Well, one dog hates me. He used to love me, but one of my dogs pissed him off when he came inside the house next door to visit everyone, and got in bed with them and smooched with them for a while. They thought it was hilarious, but Jake didn't appreciate him coming inside very much, and it led to a nasty sounding fight, where Jake wound up on the losing end to a dog eight years his senior.

After they had their little blowout, he bit me, and now, he won't even look at me if I talk to him.

I doubt he has any opinion about Telemundoh, but he may think, "Any enemy of my enemy.."

Laughing like a loon is what you know how to do. I'd stick with that.

Steve is someone I know from the news group. I don't consider that tenuous a connection a "friend." He is a familiar poster to this news group that I share some political beliefs with. Steve does as he pleases regardless of what you or I think.

Steve will probably do the Ph.D. thing on MWB as long as he is around just like you will have the obominator on the brain forever.

But getting back to you Kookaburra, what nut case stuff have you been up to lately other than the usual BS posts here?

The Kookaburra dog story.

That's some great speculation coming from that Kookaburra warped mind of yours. I don't know why you felt the need to let us know "what your dog thinks" but it was a good example of projection. Keep up the good work nut case.

Il is his second surname. In western naming convention it would be Dong-Il Kim (more like the hyphenated), similar to the way the Spanish do their surnames.

My bad. It's the second half of his GIVEN name. It's not really like a middle name the way we think of it.

Ha! Had a nice Vietnamese fellow at work, and actually he was ethnic Chinese.

His first name was Hui, pronounced Wee.

I always called him Long Dong Wee.

We always had some good laughs, though he ragged on me for not picking up all the folks on rafts.

He finally, I think, figured out that I was not in charge.

I'm still not in charge today!

Well good for you, after watching that show I thought " Poor Brenda Ann." ;-) The one part that I did think was pretty cool was all the food vendors cooking their wares on the street. On the show I didn't see one western fast food place, the cameras simply didn't show it.
Good to know you didn't have to entirely give up the western food.:-) Have you ever tried that bean paste stuff? If I visited another country I would definitely try about everything just to see what it's like.

Peewee Herman? Where did you come up with that one? I do a much better Tony Soprano impersonation. Marlon Brando too. And I do a decent Nixon

What's the matter, you never watched "The Ten Commandments"? His "Myeah.. Where's yer Moses now?" was the highlight of the whole movie.

You're really not the life of the party, are you?

They use the bean paste in one of my favorite foods here. It's not really Korean, they serve it at "Chinese" restaurants, but it's not really Chinese, either. It's called khan ja jang. It's a sort of very heavy soup (as served) made from egg noodles and a concoction of (soy) bean paste, bits of beef, onion, soy beans (they look like peas), and various spices. It's really quite good. They also use the bean paste in Korea's version of sticky rolls. I prefer the Japanese style with BBQ pork in them. :)

If you want a real trip for great food on the street corner, go to Thailand. There, they have motorcycles (and some bicycles, too) with little kitchens attached to the side (propane stove and grill). They each sort of specialize in a few similar items, to keep the ingredients to a minimum. The best ones make noodle dishes with bits of pork or beef (very popular are the ones that make dishes with seafood, mostly prawns and shrimp). Many make some very good soups, but you had best be wearing your flameproof undies... LOL. Lots of Thai food that I really love. Next, I want to try Vietnamese and real Indian food. May even try the Halal restaurant I saw in Seoul last week, as long as they have something besides lamb dishes.

That is what I think many people forget Bob.

He could be a slobbering fool. If any rogue nation has the capability to deliver nuclear payload, that is all the matters.

Sooner or later, one of these rogue nations will launch, and it will change the way most of the world looks at nuclear weapons.

Most of the World does not remember the reality of Nuclear Weapons; since the Bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki occurred in 1945 some 64 years ago.
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Atomic_bombings_of_Hiroshima_and_Nagasaki
The North Korean Regime is crazy enough to use Nuclear Weapons -if- they deem it to be in their best interest -or- feel that they were driven to attack the South in their own defense.

In Vietnam, sometimes I would see a fish tacked to a board.There is a strip of wood (sort of like quarter round moulding) tacked to the board and they slit the belly of the fish and let the fish liquid run down and drip into a bottle,,, fish sauce.

We had an eight hour layover in Tokyo on our way to Vietnam.I went to a restaurant in Tokyo.A guy who works in the restaurant went to a fish tank and he grabbed one of the live fish in the tank and he cut a small slice off of that fish and he put that slice on a plate and he put that fish back in the tank.That fish began swimming around just like nothing ever had happened to it.There was a big color tv set inside of the restaurant.

I visited Mexico for five days about sixteen years ago.Some of the restaurants in Mexico also have tv sets for the people to watch while they are eating.Some people put their tv sets outside and they watch tv outside because the weather is so hot in the Summertime.

Once in a while on his call in radio talk show, www.supertalkms.com Paul Gallo runs some funny little dittys.One of those funny little ditty sing song thingys he ran about twenty minutes ago was,,,
You are going to have to go to war, go to war, go to war, you are going to have to go to war when you get out of school,,, life is really going to suck when you grow up, when you grow up, when you grow up, life is really going to suck when you grow up,,,,,,,

There are a few more verses to that ditty, but I done forgot what they are.It's Funny!

www.softwar.net (Charlie Smith) and www.gertzfile.com (Bill Gertz) are two websites always worth checking out.

Lets me git back to woick.Ahh needs to git some better old crappy tires (that will hold air) on my raggity old 1978 Dodge van and I still think I am going to rig up a little bitty gas tank to the fuel pump.I think I will rig a flexible gas hose from the radiator overflow tank to the metal fuel connection line at the fuel filter and from there to the fuel pump.tHat means I will be rollin around on the ground under that old van.

I got back from the used tires place (Morris Tires Inc.I spent $37.40) about forty minutes ago, I am takin me a little break right now.Then I am going to slap those three wheels with the better old crappy (long as they will hold air pressure for a long time, I don't care) used tires on them on my 1978 Dodge van.Then I will see about riggin up either that plastic radiator overflow tank or another little plastic gas tank (it is a little tank I bought at a junk yard many years ago, about half a gallon capacity, I think it is) directly to the fuel pump on that van.I am real good at riggin up thingys, if I do say so meself.Then I reckon I will wash that van and wash my new old 1983 Dodge van too.

You are the only regular poster here that has used it in the last couple of Years. Always using the 'cover' that someone else used it way back then . . .

Did Telamon use "The-N-Word" in this thread - NO.
-but- You tried to put "The-N-Word" in his mouth.

Did anyone else use "The-N-Word" in this thread - NO.
-but- You tried to put "The-N-Word" in their mouths.

Mike [M II] - OK so... DX Ace called the Icom

It's a Radio Not Your Mama and there was/is no reason to use "The-N-Word" in your reply.

Mike [M II] your present day usage of "The-N-Word" is becoming a 'well known problem' in this newsgroup.

Mike [M II] being a Can-A-D'Oh!-ian does not excuse you yourself from using "The-N-Word".

Canadians do not have license to use "The-N-Word" just because they are 'not' Americans.

1413. Fascism's Legacy: Liberalism

Liberal fascism sounds like an oxymoron – or a term for conservatives to insult liberals. Actually, it was coined by a socialist writer, none other than the respected and influential left-winger H.G. Wells, who in 1931 called on fellow progressives to become "liberal fascists" and "enlightened Nazis." Really.

His words, indeed, fit a much larger pattern of fusing socialism with fascism: Mussolini was a leading socialist figure who, during World War I, turned away from internationalism in favor of Italian nationalism and called the blend Fascism. Likewise, Hitler headed the National Socialist German Workers Party.

These facts jar because they contradict the political spectrum that has shaped our worldview since the late 1930s, which places communism at the far left, followed by socialism, liberalism in the center, conservatism, and then fascism on the far right. But this spectrum, Jonah Goldberg points out in his brilliant, profound, and original new book, Liberal Fascism: The Secret History of the American Left from Mussolini to the Politics of Meaning (Doubleday), reflects Stalin's use of fascist as an epithet to discredit anyone he wished – Trotsky, Churchill, Russian peasants – and distorts reality. Already in 1946, George Orwell noted that fascism had degenerated to signify "something not desirable."

To understand fascism in its full expression requires putting aside Stalin's misrepresentation of the term and also look beyond the Holocaust, and instead return to the period Goldberg terms the "fascist moment," roughly 1910-35. A statist ideology, fascism uses politics as the tool to transform society from atomized individuals into an organic whole. It does so by exalting the state over the individual, expert knowledge over democracy, enforced consensus over debate, and socialism over capitalism. It is totalitarian in Mussolini's original meaning of the term, of "Everything in the State, nothing outside the State, nothing against the State." Fascism's message boils down to "Enough talk, more action!" Its lasting appeal is getting things done.

In contrast, conservatism calls for limited government, individualism, democratic debate, and capitalism. Its appeal is liberty and leaving citizens alone.

Goldberg's triumph is establishing the kinship between communism, fascism, and liberalism. All derive from the same tradition that goes back to the Jacobins of the French Revolution. His revised political spectrum would focus on the role of the state and go from libertarianism to conservatism to fascism in its many guises – American, Italian, German, Russian, Chinese, Cuban, and so on.

As this listing suggests, fascism is flexible; different iterations differ in specifics but they share "emotional or instinctual impulses." Mussolini tweaked the socialist agenda to emphasize the state; Lenin made workers the vanguard party; Hitler added race. If the German version was militaristic, the American one (which Goldberg calls liberal fascism) is nearly pacifist. Goldberg quotes historian Richard Pipes on this point: "Bolshevism and Fascism were heresies of socialism." He proves this confluence in two ways.

First, he offers a "secret history of the American left":

Woodrow Wilson's Progressivism featured a "militaristic, fanatically nationalist, imperialist, racist" program, enabled by the exigencies of World War I.
Franklin D. Roosevelt's "fascist New Deal" built on and extended Wilson's government.
Lyndon B. Johnson's Great Society established the modern welfare state, "the ultimate fruition" (so far) of this statist tradition.
The youthful New Left revolutionaries of the 1960s brought about "an Americanized updating" of the European Old Right.
Hillary Clinton hopes "to insert the state deep into family life," an essential step of the totalitarian project.
To sum up a near-century of history, if the American political system traditionally encouraged the pursuit of happiness, "more and more of us want to stop chasing it and have it delivered."

Second, Goldberg dissects American liberal programs – racial, economic, environmental, even the "cult of the organic" – and shows their affinities to those of Mussolini and Hitler.

If this summary sounds mind-numbingly implausible, read Liberal Fascism in full for its colorful quotes and convincing documentation.
The author, hitherto known as a smart, sharp-elbowed polemicist, has proven himself a major political thinker.

Beyond offering a radically different way to understand modern politics, in which fascist is no more a slander than socialist, Goldberg's extraordinary book provides conservatives with the tools to reply to their liberal tormentors and eventually go on the offensive.
If liberals can eternally raise the specter of Joseph McCarthy, conservatives can counter with that of Benito Mussolini.

"Liberal Fascist". I love it. Just like "intelligent conservative".
No wonder you people are so anti-education. You want everyone to be as stupid as you.

is true that most stupid people are conservative." John Stuart Mill

Ja, Heil Hitler her 0baMa0!

ROTFLMAO!

Ideology comes from a kind of canonical text, or set of texts, and one of the great things about conservatism is that there are no canonical texts. So you, her Hitler, must 1 - be able to speak with the dead.
2 - You must be over 130 years old. Or 3 - , more likely, you are more stupid than I am - LMFAO!
